The American E. F. University is organized and operated under the control of the Fifth Section of the General Staff, General Headquarters, which section controls all educational work in the American Expeditionary Force. The officers are :

Brigadier general HAROLD B. FISKE, General Staff,
Assistant Chief of Staff G-5

Brigadier General ROBERT I. REES, General Staff,
In Charge Educational Sub-Section-G-5.

STATEMENT BY REGISTRAR

Part I of this publication will be followed by Part II, the Register of Students, and by Part III, Illustrated Supplement. This publication contains (1) the Constitution and the Organization of the University, (2) the entire faculties of the colleges located at Beaune, and of the Bellevue and Le Mans sections of the College of Fine Arts ; the faculty of the Farm School at Allerey, and the faculty of the Division and Post Schools at Beaune ; (3) the schedule and the description of the courses in all the above schools and colleges. This does not include other activities under the Army Educational Commission, enrollment and instruction of students at French and English Universities, and the enrollment and instruction the many Division Schools and Post Schools among the American Expeditionary Forces. A report of that work is given in a different publication.

This Catalogue aims to be a record of facts, and as a record aims to be accurate and complete as to faculties, organization and courses given. Credits were given in all courses here described. The description of the courses aims to be a very brief but satisfactory indication of the character and extent of the work done. Preceding the description of courses for each college is a brief statement of the equipment of the college for the work announced. The statements of the various colleges will be found interesting as well as instructive. There were 6,198 students registered ; there were at mid-term 224 courses, 397 classes and 13,108 registrations in the University classes at Beaune concerned with work of college grade looking towards college credit.

INTRODUCTION

The American E. F. University at Beaune was established for the benefit of those students in the American Forces who could not be sent to the French and British Universities and who yet qualified for college or university work.

The general plan of the University was formed in January, 1919, by Brigadier General Robert I. Rees, G-5, G.H.Q., and the Army Educational Commission.

On February 5, Colonel Ira L. Reeves, then commanding the 137th Infantry at Sampigny, was ordered to report to Headquarters where he was directed to inspect Allerey as a possible site for the University. Colonel Reeves reached Allerey February 7, 1919, and found that hospital center suitable for an agricultural school but not for the larger university. On the same day he visited the American Hospital at Beaune and reported favorably on that site. On February 8, 1919, Beaune was definitely selected as the site of the University. On February 11 the Army Educational Commission arrived at Beaune and with Colonel Reeves began organizing faculty and courses and planning for equipment. On February 12 Colonel Reeves received paragraph 110 of Special Order No 44 G.H.Q., detailing him as Superintendent and Commanding Officer of the American E. F. University, « now being established at Beaune. » These orders were later amended so as to make « Superintendent » read « President ». On February 13 General Orders No. 30 G.H.Q., 1919, were issued, of which paragraph 4 gave authority for the establishment of the American E. F. University. Since these orders indicate the place of the University in the entire educational program of the Army, they are here quoted in full :

G. H. Q.

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 30.

FRANCE, February 13, 1919.

EDUCATIONAL WORK IN THE A. E. F.

I. The Commander in Chief invites the attention of organization commanders and of all officers in the American Expeditionary Forces to the importance of national education. This citizen army must return to the United States prepared to take an active and intelligent part in the future progress of our country. Educational and occupational training should therefore be provided to meet the needs of the members of the A. E. F. in order that they may become better equipped for their future responsibilities.

1. General Orders No. 9, c. s., these headquarters, has established a system of post schools which provides elementary and secondary instruction for all soldiers in need of such training.

2. For more advanced education, there will be established in each army, corps and division and in each section of the S. O. S., centers of training to be known as division educational centers. These centers will provide such vocational training as the material and equipment within the division or section makes possible. The following subjects of vocational training will be found practicable in all divisions and sections : Carpentry; telephone repair; telegraphy, wire; telegraphy, wire-less; land surveying; road construction; horse-shoeing; automobile repairing; cobbling; tailoring; barbering; cooking; baking; nursing. Other subjects, as they are found practicable, will be authorized.

These centers will also provide instruction in more advanced subjects of general education than can be given in post schools, either because instructors are few or because the demand for such subjects is slight. Subjects suggested are, for example: Algebra; trigonometry; mechanical drawing; agriculture; salesmanship; economics; American and English literature; advanced French; Italian; Spanish; German; advanced course in history, etc.

In order to determine the demand in each educational center for education, a complete survey of his organization will be made by each commander. On the basis of this survey classes will be organized. Courses will be organized providing a minimum of five hours instruction and supervised study per day, five days in the week, covering a period of three months. Organization of provisional educational companies or detachments, conveniently located and provided with a proper administrative organization, is authorized. Such organizations will be given one hour of military training per day in addition to the educational work. The number of students will be limited by the capacity for giving instruction in each division educational center and will not exceed 15 per cent of the command.

Carefully selected school officers will be detailed in charge of the establishment and operation of division educational centers. School officers and instructors will be excused from all other military duty.

The commanding general, S. O. S., is authorized to modify the requirements of this paragraph to meet conditions within his command, giving, however, to the members of his organization every educational opportunity consistent with military necessity.

3. Supplementing and expanding these opportunities within the organizations, officers and soldiers will have the privilege of attending educational institutions of the nations associated with the United States in this war. Arrangements have already been made whereby selected members of the A. E. F. may be ordered to detached service in attendance on French and British universities during the current spring term, which will terminate June 30, 1919. Soldiers will receive commutation of subsistence at the rate of $2.00 per day. Soldiers on this duty will be reimbursed on War Department Form No. 330 for actual expenses incurred by them for lodging while on such duty not in excess of $1.00 per day. Receipts for such expenditures will be obtained if practicable, and if not, affidavits to that effect will be furnished by the soldier. Detailed instructions for the selection of students to this end will be issued from these headquarters.

4. Since the above university opportunities are of graduate character and are therefore available only to selected men of high educational qualifications, an A. E. F. educational center will be established to provide college and technical training beyond that offered at division educational centers. Students will enroll for a term period of three months. Detailed instructions for the assignment of members of the A. E. F. to this educational center will be issued from these headquarters.

5. Students enrolling in post schools and in division educational centers will return with their respective organizations when ordered to the United States, except that applications for transfer to other division educational centers for the purpose of completing courses will be favorably considered. Students attending the A. E. F. Educational Center will have the option of returning to the United States with their organizations or of remaining to complete the term of three months. Students entering French and British universities must agree to remain for the full term.

6. The Army Educational Commission of the Young Men's Christian Association will assist in every possible way in the development of this educational system, and will function as defined in Pars. 8 and 9, G. O. No. 9, c. s., these headquarters.

7. The Fifth Section, G. S., G. H. Q., will control all matters pertaining to army education.

BY COMMAND OF GENERAL PERSHING :

JAMES W. Mc ANDREW,

Chief of Staff.

OFFICIAL :

ROBERT C. DAVIS,

Adjutant General.

The hospital buildings already erected were sufficient to accommodate some eight thousand students and faculty. It was decided to set up the class-rooms and the administration buildings in several units of the hospital which had already been planned but which were not yet completed. Authority to begin actual construction work was received by Colonel Reeves on February 22. In the following three or four weeks about two hundred buildings were completed or altered and about one hundred seventy-five additional erected. The larger buildings of the University number in all more than six hundred.

At an informal meeting of the University Council on February 22 the educational organization of the University was adopted, as announced in a University Order on the next day :

HEADQUARTERS

AMERICAN E.F. UNIVERSITY

A.P.O. 909

GENERAL ORDER
No 6.

23 February, 1919.

1. The following plan of administration of the educational organization of the University has been approved, and is published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

EDUCATIONAL ORGANIZATION OF THE UNIVERSITY

1. The University will be administered by military authority through the superintendent of the University, with the advice of the Army Educational Commission and its experts on educational matters as defined in G.O.Nos. 9 and 30, c.s., G.H.Q., A.E.F.

2. The Superintendent of the University will issue the necessary orders governing the nature and the schedule of courses, and the personnel of directors and teachers. He will act as chairman of the faculties and the military staff whenever they meet in joint session. He will be ex-officio member of the University Council and of all faculties and committees.

3. The chairman of the Army Educational Commission will be the Educational Director of the University. He will act as chairman of the University Council. He will be ex-officio member of all faculties and committees.

4. The Army Educational Commission, in addition to advising the Superintendent of the University as to general educational policies, will recommend to him the appointment of the directors of the colleges and the first heads of departments. The commissioners will be ex-officio members of the University Council.

5. The University Council will consist of the Superintendent, the Educational Director and other members of the Army Educational Commission ex-officio, and of the directors of the various colleges, of the Registrar, and of the head of the Saturday course in Citizenship. The Council will recommend to the Superintendent all action governing the nature and schedule of courses and the personnel of the faculties.

6. The director of each college will recommend to the Council the nature and schedule of the courses given by his faculty, and will nominate its personnel. He will act as chairman of his faculty and ex-officio member of all its departments and committees.

7. The faculty of each college will consist of all its teaching force. At the first meeting of each term, faculties will elect a secretary, an instruction committee, and a schedule committee to serve for the current term. Each faculty will refer to these committees all educational problems of the college, and will meet to discuss or recommend to the director the report of these committees.

8. The secretary of each faculty will keep the minutes of his faculty, and after each meeting will file a copy of the minutes with the record office.

9. The instruction committee of each college, consisting of three members of the faculty and the director ex-officio, will be the executive body of the faculty.

10. The schedule committee of each college will consist of three members, and the director ex-officio, and will advise the faculty of the school as to the schedule of classes, of laboratory periods and study hours.

11. A department will consist of all those teaching the same subject. A department may recommend to any faculty changes in the program of its courses or in its own personnel. The members of a department will nominate to the council one of their number as chairman of the department.

12. The University Librarian will have charge of all reference libraries and reading rooms in the University.

13. The Registrar of the University will have charge of the registering of the students of the entire school system of the A.E.F.

The First Assistant Registrar will have charge of the registering of students in the A.E.F. University.

The Second Assistant Registrar will have charge of the registering of students in the post and division schools.

The Third Assistant Registrar will have charge of the registering of A.E.F. students in the French and British Universities.

Q. number of officers and men sent to Beaune.

OFFICIAL :

DAVIS.

Adjutant General.

At the first formal meeting of the University Council on March 2 the following minute was adopted :

« The unusual conditions under which the American E. F. University begins its work, the absence of hampering traditions and the presence of unusual problems all suggest an opportunity of organizing here such an educational system as many of us should like to see in the United States — that is, a system so unified from the elementary to the graduate schools that every man can find in college, in post school or in division school classes, the particular instruction that he needs. The entire system will be represented at Beaune, since we shall have here, in addition to the University, a post and a division school. Some fear might possibly be felt, in the absence of our accustomed American machinery for entrance examinations, that the standards of the college and university work may be relaxed. We believe, however, that where an instructor will preserve the proper standard in his course no possible harm can come to the educational standards of the University. We believe also that in the United States, where an instructor does not preserve the standards in his own course, no system of entrance examinations can protect the standards of the college.

The value of a certificate for work done in this University will therefore depend upon the maintenance of proper standards in each individual course.

The work of education in the Army has obviously a teaching rather than an examining function. It is more important that we should help any member of the A.E.F. who desires to improve himself than that we should issue certificates. But in order to give the student the most advantageous instruction we shall not hesitate, after a fair trial in any part of our educational system, to recommend his transfer to courses more suited to his needs. »

The Faculty of the University was recruited from professional teachers in the Army and directly from civil life in the United States, through the Y.M.C.A. On April 16, 1919 General Order No. 62 created these civilian teachers engaged in the educational work into an Army Educational Corps as a temporary service with the A.E.F.

The French instruction is under the direction of two experienced French teachers lent to the University through the courtesy of the French Minister of Instruction. Other French teachers were further supplied by the courtesy of the French Minister of War.

Classes began at various times as the students and teachers arrived. The regular class work began with the Course in Citizenship on March 13, 1919.

NOTES FROM THE UNIVERSITY COUNCIL

The following notes taken from the minutes of the University Council cover all important regulations connected with registration and credentials.

BY-LAWS

1. Each term of the University calendar shall cover a period of three months beginning March 15, 1919. The last week of each term shall be reserved for examinations.

2. All courses, with the exception noted in Paragraph 5, shall be in session on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. (By action of the University Council on recommendation from the Committee on Instruction, a few courses were later admitted to the University to meet twice a week or three times a week. Such courses are carefully indicated in the catalogue statements.)

3. The recitation and lecture periods shall be fifty minutes. The schedule shall provide four such morning periods, beginning 8:20, 9:20, 10:20, 11:20, and three such afternoon periods, beginning at 1:20, 2:20 and 3:20.

4. Each student shall carry as a minimum three lecture or recitation periods daily during these five days of the week, and four and one half hours daily in study periods. In laboratory, art and music courses, laboratory, atelier and practice work shall be equated with the study periods and the lecture periods.

5. Saturday afternoons shall be free. In the four lecture periods of the Saturday mornings of each term there shall be a course of citizenship, general information and international relations, which will be compulsory for all students of the University.

(N. B. This Saturday morning course in Citizenship was later changed to meet on Tuesday evenings.)

6. The Faculty and Military Staff of the University shall meet in joint session monthly or more often, at the call of the Superintendent.

7. The University Council shall meet weekly or more often, at the call of the Educational Director.

8. Each faculty shall meet monthly or more often at the call of the Director.

9. The committees and departments shall meet when they find it necessary.

10. The order of business for the University Council and for each faculty shall be :

(a) Roll Call

(b) Reading of the Minutes of the Previous Meeting

(c) Reports from Chairman

(d) Unfinished Business

(e) Reports of Committees

Instruction Committee

Schedule Committee

Special Committees

(f) New Business

(g) Adjournment

N. B. — In addition to the above committees, each college has a committee on registration and a credentials committee.

ACTIONS OF COUNCIL

1. On recommendation from the Army Educational Commission, the Council ordered the division of the College of Letters and Sciences into the College of Letters and the College of Science for local administrative reasons.
(March 2, 1949)

2. Fifteen hours shall be the normal amount of work per week for each undergraduate student; but students who in the judgment of the registration committee are clearly qualified to do so may be allowed to register for twenty hours.
(March 8, 1949)

3. Students carrying more than fifteen hours who fail to maintain a satisfactory standard shall be required to drop the extra course at the middle of the term.
(March 8, 1949)

4. Requirements for entrance to the University shall be the successful completion of a four-years' high school course in the United States, or its equivalent, and if the equivalent be offered the matter shall be passed upon by the Credentials Committee.
(March 8, 1949)

5. Special students entering the University shall be required to satisfy the entrance requirements.
(March 8, 1949)

6. Mid-term reports shall be required in all work, the form of report to indicate « the student has satisfied the instructor », or « the student his not satisfied the instructor ».
(March 8, 1949)

7. As a slight modification of the above action with reference to entrance requirements, it was decided « that the Medical College and other graduate colleges shall follow the same requirements as to standards and number of hours of work as similar university schools in the United States ».

(March 8, 1919)

N. B. — Recitations began Monday morning, March 17 and concluded on May 31, a period of eleven weeks, exclusive of registration week and examination week.

The University Library consists of 30,000 volumes provided by the American Library Association Library War-Service. All books are classified by the standard Dewey Decimal Classification and included in an author and subject card index.

These books are similar in all respects to those found in the average American College or University Library, with the exception that they are of the latest revisions and entirely new. In fact, special purchases from the French and English book markets have placed in the Beaune Library many volumes not ordinarily found in American libraries. The basis of the collection consists of books on the « A.L.A. Educational List. » which was supplied for work with the Army Education Commission. The range in subject matter is wide, extending from Technology to Fine Arts, with a solid foundation of the best reference books. What is known as « General Literature » is well represented and very popular.

The Library is housed in three large buildings which are so connected and arranged that administration is centralized. In the main central building are administrative offices, an instructors' study, the reference and circulation desks, and the main reading room. The two wings constitute special reference, or reserve rooms, for the several colleges with approximately five thousand books reserved for required or supplementary reading. Thus accommodations are provided for seating nearly fifteen hundred readers at one time and students of any class may study at tables adjoining shelves on which are placed books specially set aside.

The Administration of the Library is intended to meet the unusually heavy requirements of the A. E. F. University. Both the arrangement of rooms and the organization of the staff are such that there is at logical division of service and certain contact between different parts of the organization. The Staff consists of twenty-four librarians and assistants, six of whom are trained and experienced.

There are no charges or fines at the University Library ; books are loaned to all members of this command regardless of whether they are connected with the University or are otherwise assigned.

All students in the University are required to take this course, which comprises an address, followed by an hour of discussion and an hour of lantern slide and motion picture demonstration, on each of the topics listed below. The address as prepared by the speaker of the morning is presented earlier in the week to the instructors drawn from the faculty at large to deliver the paper the first hour Saturday morning, and to conduct the discussions during the second hour in sections of two hundred students each. The third hour is devoted to assemblies of twenty-five hundred students each for a motion picture visualization of important phases of the problem under discussion. The program is concluded by remarks of the speaker, after which a printed copy of the full address is handed to each student to be filed with other pamphlets and data furnished during the course. In addition to the following principal addresses of the course, special papers will be published for distribution :

1. The University and its Ideals	Dr. John Erskine
2. The Elements of Citizenship	Dr. H. H. Murphy
3. Vocations, Their Possibilities and Their Limitations	Dr. K. L. Butterfield
· 4. Social Customs	Mr. R. B. Fosdick
· 5. The World's Food Supply	Mr. Herbert Hoover
6. City Planning and Community Housing	Mr. Grosvenor Atterbury
7. Industrial Problems	Lt. Col. J. P. Jackson
8. Public Safety and Welfare	Mr. J. A. Kingsbury
9. Public Education	Dr. E. F. Spaulding
10. Public Health	Col. J. H. Ford
11. Art and the Citizen	Mr. G. S. Hellman
· 12. Religion and the Citizen	Bishop Brent
13. Governments and Their Foreign Relations	Dr. Wm. J. Newlin
14. The Heritage of the Future Generation	Mr. Babcock
15. The Principles of Citizenship Applied	Lt. Col. W. F. Snow

The addresses starred are to be given by speakers not connected with the University or the Commission and will therefore supplement the regular Saturday morning schedule, being given at the convenience of the speakers.

EXCHANGE LECTURE COURSES

In order to promote the general dissemination of useful knowledge concerning a wide range of subjects bearing upon progress in citizenship, combination courses have been arranged for which instructors are to be furnished by the respective departments through a system of exchange. The sections organized are to be accredited by the College in which the major portion of the student's university course is taken, and to which the subject is related.

The departments co-operating through the exchange of lecturers for these combination courses are indicated below, together with the series of fifteen-lecture subjects offered for combination.

The four series comprising the lecture course offered by the Department of Public Health and Hygiene will be scheduled for purposes of certification as PuH 4 A in the College of Science. Similarly the four series comprising the lecture course offered by the Department of Political Science will be recognized as PS8A in the College of Letters. Other lecture series provided for in this table will not be given such recognition unless a sufficient number of students can be grouped in sections to warrant the special assignment of instructors for the entire series.

POPULAR LECTURES

Tuesday evenings have been set aside for popular educational lectures upon topics in science, art, music, engineering, and current history. These lectures will be announced from week to week and are open to all students and others interested. Arrangements have been made to bring to the University for demonstration various exhibits on public health, housing, mental hygiene, industrial relations and government, which have been sent from the United States for use by the Army Educational Commission's Department of Citizenship.

Instruction in the College of Agriculture is grouped in four departments for administrative convenience : Agro-nomy, Animal Husbandry, Horticulture and Forestry, and Rural Economy and Sociology. These departments deal with the following subjects : soil classification, fertility and management, forage, fiber, and cereal crops, farm machinery and farm construction ; livestock, types and classes, feeding, management and breeding ; dairy farming, dairy cattle and products, poultry types, egg production and poultry farming ; orcharding and small fruits, vegetable gardening, plant propagation, floriculture, and forestry ; farm management, marketing and co-operation, farm credit, rural organization, rural education, rural institutions, and rural sociology.

In general, three classes of courses are offered by each department for each general subject. The first course is of an elementary character, and has no prerequisite ; the second is somewhat more advanced, and presupposes some work of college grade, either in general science or in the particular subject concerned ; the third is still more advanced and is for men who have had two or more years of college work.

One course in General Agriculture is offered for students who have had only limited farm experience, and for students in other colleges of the University who may desire to obtain a general view of modern agriculture.

For the special benefit of agricultural students, courses are offered in other colleges of the University as follows, each course to count as an elective in Agriculture : — College of Engineering, CE 14A, Engineering for Agricultural Students ; College of Journalism, J 3B, Agricultural Journalism ; College of Science, B 2A, Agricultural Botany, B 3B, Plant Pathology ; Z 5B, Genetics, Z 7A, Agricultural Entomology.

In general, the courses selected for instruction in this College are of a type that do not require laboratory equipment, but certain of the courses in dairying, horticulture, and soils are provided with laboratory facilities. The location of Beaune is very favorable for field trips for the study of soils, dairying, viticulture, vegetable gardening, and forestry, and classes in these subjects take field trips at least once a week as part of their courses. Text books are available for the majority of the courses offered in the College, and notes and lectures are prepared by competent teachers in subjects where the text books are lacking.

Admission to the College of Agriculture is on the same basis as admission to the other Colleges. One of the courses in which each student is registered must be in some subject other than agriculture.

GENERAL AGRICULTURE

Ag 1A. General Agriculture. — A presentation of the various phases of the agricultural industry in successive groups of lectures by the different departments of the College of Agriculture. The course is of special value to students in other colleges who wish a comprehensive survey of the field of agricultural industry. 8.20, 10.20, 3.20. Bldg. 513. Lt. WILLIFORD.

COLLEGE OF FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

The College of Fine and Applied Arts as indicated by the curriculum outlined below offered courses in all branches of art, with instruction by both American and French teachers. Apart from such instruction on the University ground, the students have had the inestimable benefit of travel and study in the beautiful surrounding towns, and further afield through tours in France.

Under the same Director as the College of Fine and Applied Arts, the A. E. F. Art Training Center at Bellevue, Seine et Oise, is also a part of the American E. F. University. This separate branch of the University, with its own military organization, has the great benefit of proximity to Paris, and its courses have included many lectures by distinguished French artists and teachers of art. At both Beaune and Bellevue instructors drawn from the army have been associated with civilian instructors with results best indicated by the enthusiasm displayed and the excellent work produced by these students.

While it is only these two institutions that are, as far as art is concerned, component parts of the University, this would seem to be the place to record that some six hundred members of the A. E. F. have pursued art studies in twenty-one hospitals and convalescent camps under the instructional supervision of qualified women, both in the Young Men's Christian Association and the American Red Cross. This branch of our work was organized by two army officers, associated with the ## Department of Fine and Applied Arts of the Army Educational Commission.

About a hundred members of the A.E.F. have pursued their art studies in four of the Paris ateliers of architecture, painting, and sculpture.

These have been the four main fields of work. At Le Mans and at Coblenz small art schools have been established, and one of our main lecturers has given talks on art in numerous places. The applications from army men for art studies has reached a total of over three thousand and of this number about twelve hundred and fifty have pursued courses under our direction.

CLERICAL ASSISTANTS

Mrs. Broderick, Miss Keene.

The College of Business is not a business college. « Business College » is the name that was appropriated some fifty years ago by those institutions that aimed to train stenographers and book-keepers for business concerns. The College of Business aims to take men who have had either a good academic training or considerable business experience, and give them a preparation that will help them to step into executive or semi-executive jobs in business.

The courses offered are of the same nature as those usually given in American schools of commerce of collegiate grade. Men who have had no business experience should take up first the courses in Business Organization and in Commercial Law, which rank as « B » courses for students in the Colleges of Letters and of Science. The other courses are open only to men who have had either business experience or some preliminary training in advanced business courses.

Each course is planned to occupy a three-month term, five class sessions a week.

COURSES OF STUDY

Bus 1B. Business Organization. — The course reviews the basic principles and the customary practice in organizing business concerns, in producing, selling, financing, accounting, and management. It does not presuppose previous business experience. 8.20, 2.20. Bldg. 567. Lt. GEARY.

Bus 2C. Principles of Accounting. — A basic course which is useful not only to prospective bookkeepers and accountants, but to all who are preparing for responsible business duties. It deals with the principles of accounting rather than with the technique of keeping books. Section A for men who have had no training in bookkeeping; section B for men who understand bookkeeping. 8.20, 9.20, 10.20, 3.20. Bldg. 467. Lt. ADLER.

Bus 3B. Commercial Law. — A rapid review of the fundamentals of commercial law. The course is not designed to take the place of professional law studies, but is solely for the benefit of men preparing for business careers. 10.20, 11.20. Bldg. 567. Lt. PATTRICK.

Bus 4C. Principles of Selling and Advertising. — The psychology of selling, motives that underlie the act of buying, analyzing the article to be sold, determining sales appeals, framing the selling talk, difficulties in personal salesmanship, overcoming objections, increasing the size of an order, leaving the customer in the right attitude, special types and problems of selling, analyzing the market, influencing men through advertising, psychology of advertising, successful types of advertising copy, and formulating sales policies and campaigns. 9.20, 1.20. Bldg. 567. Lt. HESS.

Bus 5C. Insurance Practice and Salesmanship. — The major part of the course is devoted to a careful study of the principles of modern insurance, including a review of types and forms of insurance policies. Following this section of the course, the principles of salesmanship will be applied to special problems in the field of insurance. 2.20. Bldg. 467. Lt. ABBOT.

Bus 6C. Foreign Trade. — This course is designed to appeal to all intelligent, broad-gauged men who are preparing for posts of leadership in American business during the decade of expansion just ahead. It has even more immediate value for those who will enter foreign trade work either at home or abroad. The topics treated will include economics of foreign commerce, selling methods, financing, shipping, and law applicable to foreign trade. 3.20. Bldg. 567. Lt. THAMES.

Bus 7C. Financial Practice. — A seminar course devoted to discussion of current financial problems and practice in such fields as corporation finance, statistical forecasts, analysis of financial statements, financial investigations and estimates, and the like. The subject matter will be drawn largely from articles and criticisms of corporation reports appearing in the financial press. The enrollment is confined strictly to students who have had either considerable experience in this field or a good preliminary training in finance and accounting. Students will be called upon to do sufficient outside work to make this course equivalent in university credits to a course running throughout the current university term. 4.20. Bldg. 466. MAJOR EMERSON.

CADET COLLEGE

INSTRUCTORS

Mathematics. — Mr. Allen, Dr. Buchanan, Capt. Caldwell, Lt. Nelson, Capt. Rehm, Capt. Snapp.

History. — Lt. Bailey, Dr. Evans, Lt. Renn.

Geography. — Mr. Bishop, Mr. Linsley, Mr. Powell, Mr. Ridgley, Lt. Schmerber, Dr. Williams.

The Cadet College was organized to provide instruction of an intensive nature in those subjects which are required of applicants taking the entrance examinations for the United States Military Academy at West Point. The following curriculum was laid down in strict conformity to the requirements given in the Bulletin of Information issued by the Military Academy. The content of each course was governed by the requirements of the Bulletin, Cadet 1 : Geography. — Locational aspects of the geography of the earth's surface.

Cadet 2 : Algebra. — Up to and including quadratic equations.

Cadet 3 : English. — Elements of composition and grammar.

Cadet 4 : Geometry. — Plane geometry only.

Cadet 5 : History. — The factual aspect of the history of the United States.

Cadet 6 : History. — The history of Europe from 1453 to 1789 inclusive.

Two hundred and ninety-eight students were registered in the Cadet College.

These candidates were selected by commanding officers in all divisions of the American Expeditionary Force. Transfers and preliminary tests reduced the number of those who actually took the formal examination on March 18, 19 and 20 to one hundred and eighty-eight. After the examination the cadets were transferred to the regular courses of the University. For the most part study lists of individuals were made to conform to the first-year work at West Point.

Except in the cases of those to whom commissions were granted after the examination the cadets will be returned to the United States with their own organizations or with the University organization. The successful candidates will report at the Military Academy on July 1.

INSTRUCTORS

The purpose of the College of Correspondence, which is in reality the extension department of the A.E.F. University, is to provide educational opportunities for all members of the American Expeditionary Forces who for any reason could not attend a suitable post or division school and who were not qualified to attend any of the English or French universities or the American E. F. University at Beaune.

The Director with three assistants arrived at camp February 14, 1919, and opened an office the next morning. For a time there was great difficulty in obtaining suitable textbooks, supplies and equipment. The securing and training of an efficient clerical and instruction force was a still greater problem. Through the kindly assistance of directors, instructors and advanced students of other colleges, syllabi for twenty-one courses of study were prepared and a list of the subjects announced in the « Stars and Stripes » March 21. Within a few days applications were coming in from all sections.

Salesmanship and Personal Development, Civics and Citizenship, Farm Management, Gasoline Automobile, Shorthand, Business Law, and Foreign Trade were among the most popular subjects. Notwithstanding the lack of facilities and the slow arrival of supplies, one or more textbooks with suitable outlines, supplies and directions have been sent out to five thousand five hundred students. Nearly two thousand of these are located in Germany.

The list of courses now being offered is as follows :

The College of Education aims, in the first place, to offer to soldiers who expect to teach on their return to America collegiate courses in education, including administration, history, principles, methods of teaching in the high schools and in special branches in the elementary schools, and, in the second place, to provide short intensive courses in the methods of teaching various subjects in the post and division schools in the A. E. F. The college also affords some supervision of instruction in the post and division schools connected with the university.

The regular collegiate courses are carried on by means of lectures and required library readings. Opportunity is offered also in the post and division schools for observation and practice in teaching. Each of the short courses in eighteen different branches two weeks in length includes fifty hours, exclusive of study and library work, devoted to the study of the method of teaching that particular branch, with demonstrations, observation, and practice teaching. These short courses are pursued by groups of men sent to the college from the army of occupation, who, after receiving the training, are returned to their organizations as teachers.

Building 563 is used for administration purposes and Building 408 for class instruction. In addition to these two buildings, rooms in several other colleges are used for instruction of the students in the short courses.

The post and division schools are organized under a separate director, but for purposes of supervision of instruction are connected with the College of Education.

COURSES OF STUDY

Ed 1C. Educational Administration. — Organization, administration, and supervision of school systems. Prerequisite, the equivalent of Ed 3A, Elementary School Management, and Ed 4A, General Methods. 8.20. Bldg. 408. Mr. GWINN.

Ed 2B Secondary School Administration. — A course for high school principals. Prerequisite, a working knowledge of psychology and the principles of education. 9.20. Bldg. 408. Dr. FOSTER.

Ed 3A. Elementary School Management. — A course for principals, covering buildings, equipment, sanitation, organization and management of elementary schools. 4.20. Bldg. 408. Mr. STARK.

Ed. 4A. General Methods. — A basic course for all teachers in educational values, teaching aims, and methods. 11.20. Bldg. 408. Dr. STONE.

Ed. 5A. Special Methods in Agriculture. — A practical course for teachers and supervisors of agricultural instruction. Prerequisite, the equivalent of Ed 4A, General Methods, and adequate preparation in agriculture. 10.20. Pvt. DAVIS.

Ed 6A. Special Methods, in Trades. — A practical course for teachers and supervisors of school shop-work. Prerequisite, the equivalent of Ed 4A, General Methods, unless taken as accompanying course, and an adequate preparation in special trades. 8.20. Bldg. 408. Lt. ARTHUR.

Ed 8B. Special Methods in High School Subjects. — A series of short courses in methods of teaching high school English, history, mathematics and sciences, conducted by specialists from the corresponding colleges. Prerequisite, the equivalent of Ed 4A, General Methods, unless taken as accompanying subject, and a collegiate course in subject pursued. 2.20. Bldg. 408. Mr. ERICKSON.

Ed 9B. Psychology of Education. — A study of the psychological processes involved in mental development. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary psychology. 3.20. Bldg. 408. Dr. PENNEY.

Ed. 10C. Philosophy of Education. — Outline of certain biological, economic and social aspects of education. Prerequisite, adequate preparation in education and history. 11.20. Dr. PENNEY.

Ed. 11C. History of Education. — A basic course in the history of education. Prerequisite, adequate preparation in education and history. 10.20. Dr. FOSTER.

Ed 12C. Physical Education. — A practical course for teachers of physical training and directors of playground and recreation centers. 8.20. Bldg. 408. Mr. SPALDING.

Ed 13A. Americanization. — A thorough study of the problems involved in the teaching of illiterates and adult foreigners in post schools and night schools. 11.20. Mr. TILROE.

Ed 14B. Educational Sociology. — The course includes a survey of the development of social organization and control with special attention to the place of education in this process; attention is then directed to the evaluation of the current educational practice and tendencies with reference to social values and needs. 1.20. Bldg. 408. Mr. ERICKSON.

Ed. 16A. Short Courses for Teachers. — Each of these courses fifty hours of study of method of teaching, observation and criticism, and practice in teaching, and has for its purpose the preparation of the soldier to return to his military organization as a teacher in the post or division school.

The following courses are offered :

United States History,	Mr. Waller.
Modern European History,	Lt. Coe.
Elementary Arithmetic,	Mr. Moore.
Business Arithmetic,	Mr. Hendrix.
Algebra,	Mr. Baker.
Geometry,	Mr. Highsmith.

DEPARTMENT OF CIVIL ENGINEERING

The courses in civil engineering are largely offered by what might be called a « laboratory » method. Three hours per day are devoted to each of the heavier subjects, during which time the whole work of the day on that subject — whether study, recitation, lecture, field work or laboratory work — is completed, no outside preparation being required. With the small sections among which the students are divided, this method permits practically individual instruction.

The department is well provided with the instrumental equipment needed to conduct the courses in surveying, railroad engineering, field astronomy, etc. Among the instruments are a large Swiss theodolite suitable for accurate triangulation, and for trigonometric leveling, with both horizontal and vertical circles reading to ten seconds of arc, a French triangulation theodolite, sextants, fifty transits and fifty levels of many types and of both American and European manufacture, fifty plane tables with accompanying telescopic alidades, and a sufficient quantity of level rods, stadia rods, tapes, etc. to enable the work to be carried on to the best advantage.

The equipment for highway construction comprises a Cleveland tractor, plows, drags, scrapers, wagons, and the necessary small tools for the construction of short stretches of roads and streets of various types, and, by courtesy of the Construction Engineer at this post, a gasoline road roller is available for use when needed.

Through the kindness of the French authorities there are made available for testing purposes for the class in hydraulics the turbine, pumping machinery and water measuring devices at the « Usine Electrique » in the town of Beaune. This plant formerly generated electricity for the town but has not been in use for some time, the demand for current having exceeded its capacity. The turbine is of the inward flow type, the maximum available head about ten feet, the maximum power about thirty horse power. This plant can easily be turned into a very reasonable substitute for a hydraulic laboratory.

COURSES OF STUDY

CE 1A. Plane Surveying. — The theory and practice of land surveying and leveling; the method of subdivision of the United States public lands; the care, use and adjustment of the compass, transit and level; keeping field notes; office calculations. Prerequisite, M 3A, Plane Trigonometry, or its equivalent. 9.20-12.10, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-E. Capt. MOULTON, in charge of the course ; Cpl. BAIRD, Sgt. BROWN, Sgt. BUNCH, Lt. TRUITT.

CE 2B. Topographical Surveying. — The theory and practice of the use of the stadia, plane table, and other means of obtaining data, keeping field notes, and the office calculations necessary to produce a topographical map. The course includes base line measurement, and triangulation as used in the control of topographical surveys. Prerequisite, CE 1A, Plane Surveying, or its equivalent. 8.20-11.10, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-D-H. Major McLAIN, in charge of the course ; Lt. EDGAR, Lt. HENDERSON.

CE 3B. Field Astronomy. — Theory and practice of the determination with field instrument — transit or sextant — of latitude, longitude, azimuth and time. Prerequisite, CE 1A, Plane Surveying, or its equivalent, and a knowledge of spherical trigonometry. Second half of term. 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-G. Capt. HOLT.

CE 4B Highway Engineering. — Road surveys, highway location, drainage, construction and maintenance of earth, gravel, stone and concrete roads. Study of road oils and tars and their uses ; construction and maintenance of brick, asphalt and treated block pavements. Prerequisite, CE 1A, Plane Surveying, or its equivalent. First half of term, 1.20-4.10, Bldg. 511-G. Second half of term, 8.20-11.10. Bldg. 511-H. Lt. CHAPMAN, in charge of the course ; Lt. HARVEY.

CE 5B. Railway Engineering. — Class and field work in simple, reverse, compound and transition curves, earthwork, haul and mass diagrams ; rail road location and construction. Prerequisite, CE 1A, Plane Surveying, or its equivalent. 9.20-12.10, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-F-H. Lt. TWITCHELL, in charge of the course ; Cpl. NANCE, Lt. THOMAS.

CE 6B. Mechanics of Materials. — A study of the behavior under stress of the various materials used in engineering construction, supplemented by laboratory tests to verify the laws experimentally, and to determine the strength and fitness of the various materials. Prerequisite, a knowledge of mathematics through calculus, and theoretical mechanics. 8.20-11.10, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-F-J. Lt. CALLANDER in charge of the course ; Sgt. PLAMONDON.

CE 7B. Hydraulics. — A study of hydrostatic pressure and the laws governing the action of fluids in motion ; the flow of water through pipes, orifices, open channels and over weirs ; the measurement of flow ; supplemented by practical work and tests in the laboratory and in the field. Prerequisite, a knowledge of mathematics through calculus. 8.20-11.10, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 514-G-K. Lt. LACOUTURE, in charge of the course ; Lt. WHEELER.

CE 8C. Sanitary Engineering. — A course in water supply and purification and in sewage disposal; the design of water supply systems and sewer systems and sewage disposal plants. Prerequisite, CE 7B, Hydraulics, unless taken as accompanying subject, or its equivalent. 9.20-12.10. Bldg. 511-K. Capt. GRANT.

CE 9C. Irrigation. — A study of the design of irrigation systems, the conveyance of water to the land, the preparation of the land for the water, the duty of water, and the distribution of the water on the land. Prerequisite, CE 7B, Hydraulics, unless taken as accompanying subject, or its equivalent. First half of term, 11.20. Bldg. 511-G. Second half of term, 8.20. Bldg. 511-K. Lt. WHEELER.

CE 10C. Contracts and Specifications. — A study of the law of contracts as applied to engineering work, and of the writing of contracts and specifications. First half of term, 8.20, 11.20. Bldg. 511-K-L. Second half of term, 8.20. Bldg. 511-G. Lt. HARVEY.

CE 11B. Stresses in Framed Structures. — The graphical and analytical computation of the stresses produced in framed structures, bridges, roof trusses, mill bents, etc. by the application of different types of loads. Prerequisite, ME 2A, Mechanical Drawing; M 3A, Plane Trigonometry; and M 6A, Analytic Geometry, or their equivalents. 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-J. Major JACOBOSKY, in charge of the course; Sgt. BACH.

CE 12C. Concrete Design. — The manufacture of concrete and the design and construction of concrete structures; the theory of reinforced concrete, and the computation of stresses in and the design of various types of reinforced concrete structures, such as slabs, beams, girders and arches. Prerequisite, a knowledge of mathematics through calculus, and CE 6B, Mechanics of Materials, or its equivalent. 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-L. Capt. SANGER.

CE 13C. Structural Steel Design. — Design and preparation of drawings of roof trusses, mill bents, riveted and pin-connected bridges. Prerequisite, CE 11B, Stresses in Framed Structures, and CE 6B, Mechanics of Materials, or their equivalents, 8.20-11.10. Bldg. 511-L. Major JACOBOSKY.

CE 14A. Engineering for Agricultural Students. — A course given in connection with the departments of electrical and mechanical engineering, comprising brief courses in plane surveying, drainage, elementary electricity, gas engines, and the manufacture and use of concrete. 8.20. Bldg. 511-E. Capt. SANGER, in charge of the course; Lt. ALLEN, Cpl. BAIRD, Capt. HEATH, Lt. RAYMOND.

CE 15B. Structural and Topographical Drawing. — Practice in the making of topographical symbols and topographical maps, and in the drafting incident to the design, fabrication and construction of various types of engineering structures. Prerequisite, ME 2A, Mechanical Drawing, or its equivalent. Second half of term. 8.20-11.10, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 511-D-G, Mr. THIESSEN, in charge of the course ; Pvt. BRYANT.

CE 16C. Foundations. — A study of various types of foundations and methods of placing, both on land and under water, including the investigation of the bearing power of soils, scour of streams, etc. Prerequisite, CE 6B, Mechanics of Materials, or its equivalent. Second half of term. 11.20. Bldg. 511-L. Major JACOBOSKY.

CE 17B. Architectural Engineering. — A study of the computation of stresses and the engineering design involved in various types of building construction ; an application of the principles of engineering to architectural work. Prerequisite, CE 6B, Mechanics of Materials, or its equivalent. 8.20-11.20. Bldg. 511-D. Capt. SMYTH.

DIVISION SCHOOL COURSE

DV 13. Plane Surveying — Vocational. — This course includes a study of methods of making farm surveys, surveys for drainage, etc., and practice in the use of the instruments ordinarily used in surveying, — compass, transit, and level. It is designed to meet the needs of those who wish to learn surveying, but who have not sufficient preparation to take the regular courses in the department of civil engineering. Its limitations are therefore governed by the ability of the students in the classes. 1.20-3.10. Bldg. 667-L. Lt. CONOVER, in charge of the course ; Pvt. SIMONS.

DEPARTMENT OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

The laboratory devoted the general work in electrical engineering is equipped with six gas-electric sets for supplying direct current on the three-wire system to the other laboratories and shops, as well as for testing. There are sixteen direct current motors and generators in the laboratory arranged for testing purposes. A large number of storage batteries are also installed and kept charged from special gas-electric sets. Three-phase alternating current is supplied over a high voltage line and is used for testing induction motors, transformers, etc. Much of the apparatus is of French, Spanish and German manufacture, and the student is thus enabled to see the different designs.

A small shop is operated in one corner of the laboratory so that repairs may be conveniently made. The instrument and tool room is centrally located and is well equipped with a variety of apparatus. Equipment for automobile starting, lighting and ignition systems is also installed in this laboratory.

The wireless and wire telegraph and telephone laboratories are in building 672. The main aerial for the wireless work is about 600 feet in length and messages are almost constantly received from the United States. The College of Engineering has a complete telephone system of its own which has been installed by the students. The switchboard for this, as well as all other telephone equipment, is located in the telephone laboratory. Practice in cable testing and splicing is also carried on here.

COURSES OF STUDY

EE 1A Elementary Electricity. — A very elementary course for students who do not expect to continue their college work. Recitation is accompanied by frequent demonstrations in the laboratory and a small amount of laboratory practice. 10.20. Bldg. 672-G-F. Pvt. GRAYBROOK, in charge of the course; Pvt. HOWE.

EE 2B. Electricity and Magnetism. — A course in the fundamental principles of electricity and magnetism. 1.20. Bldg. 672-F. Lt. MILLER, in charge of the course; Pvt. GRAYBROOK.

EE 3B. Direct Current Machinery. — Magnets, field windings, heating of coils, armature winding and other details of direct current motors and generators. Characteristic performance of different types is studied with a view to the proper selection of units for electrically driven machinery and power plants. Prerequisite, EE 2B, Electricity and Magnetism, or its equivalent. 1.20. Bldg. 672-D. Capt. STAHL, in charge of the course; Capt. KARSTEN.

EE 4C. Alternating Current Machinery. — General theory of alternating current in circuits of resistance, inductance and capacity, construction and performance of transformers, alternators, induction motors, and other apparatus. Prerequisite, EE 2B, Direct Current Machinery, or its equivalent. 8.20. Bldg. 672-F. Lt. AGNEW.

EE 5C. Power Transmission. — Polyphase alternating current circuit, effects of resistance, inductance and capacity, location and construction of high voltage power transmission lines, insulation and lighting protection, disturbance to adjacent circuits, etc., with a brief course covering substation equipment, such as transformers, oil switches, motor generators, and converters. Prerequisite, EE 2B, Electricity and Magnetism, or its equivalent. 8.20. Bldg. 672-F. Lt. BESSEY.

EE 6C. Central Stations. — Steam, gas, and hydro-electric power plant installations, distribution systems, storage batteries, substations, switchboards, and other apparatus, relative economy of different prime movers. Prerequisite, EE 2B, Electricity and Magnetism, or its equivalent. 9.20. Bldg. 672-F. Lt. BESSEY.

EE 7C. Telephony. — Study of the apparatus employed for country telephone lines, common battery switchboards, line construction, inductive and lighting disturbances, etc. First half of term. 10.20. Bldg. 672-F. Capt. HEATH.

EE 8C. Telegraphy. — Study of ordinary telegraph apparatus and circuits and radio telegraphy. Second half of term. 10.20. Bldg. 672-D. Capt. STAHL, in charge of the course; Lt. BERKEL.

EE 9C. Electric Railways. — Location of electric railways, equipment of cars, control apparatus, electrolysis, substation equipment, power requirements, construction, etc. Prerequisite, EE 3B, Direct Current Machinery, or its equivalent. First half of term. 11.20. Bldg. 672-D. Lt. BURKE.

EE 10C. Illumination. — Characteristics of different types of electrical illuminants, photometry, design of interior lighting systems, street lighting, watt-hour meters, three-wire distribution system, overhead and underground distribution. Prerequisite, EE 3B, Direct Current Machinery, or its equivalent. Second half of term. 11.20. Bldg. 672-F. Capt. WOOD.

EE 11B. Electrical Laboratory and Design. — Electrical laboratory work is required of all students taking the electrical engineering courses. The work is closely supervised to keep pace with the student's ability and knowledge. Reports of all work done in the laboratory are carefully prepared. 8.20, 10.20. Bldg. 672-H. Capt. KARSTEN, in charge of the course; Lt. BECHLEM, Lt. CLAY, Pvt. GRAYBROOK, Lt. MILLER, Sgt. STANFORD, Lt. WINTERS.

EE 12B Electrical Laboratory and Design. — A large number of selected problems to be solved under the direct supervision of the instructors. The course is arranged by the instructor teaching one of the major subjects in order to parallel closely the class room work. 1.20, 2.20, 3.20, Bldg. 672-H. Lt. AGNEW, in charge of the course; Lt. BESSEY, Pvt. HOWE.

DIVISION SCHOOL COURSES

DV 9. Electric Wiring for Motors, Generators and Lights. — A course giving the elementary principles of electricity; study of proper methods of wiring; practice in the laboratory and actual wiring of apparatus. 8.20-10.10, 9.20-11.20. Bldg. 672-G-J. Cpl. LESTER, in charge of the course; Pvt. OSTER.

DV 10. Wire Telegraphy. — A course in which the telegraph code is taught and practiced. The operators used by wire telegraph systems are studied and connected in the circuits, 8.20. 9.20. Bldg. 672-J-L. Capt. STAHL, in charge of the course; Lt. BERKEL.

DV 11. Wireless Telegraphy. — Practice is given in sending and in receiving radio messages. The theory of the apparatus is studied and many lectures are given. The course is quite complete, the equipment is excellent, and only well qualified students are admitted. 2.20-4.10, Bldg. 672-J-L. Capt. STAHL, in charge of the course; Lt. BERKEL.

DV 12. Telephone Installation and Repair. — A study of the telephone, the switchboard and the line. Much actual work is done on the apparatus such as dismounting, assembling, locating troubles, etc. 1.20, 2.20, 3.20. Bldg. 672-H-K. Capt. HEATH.

DV 13. Armature Winding and Repair. — This course combines a study of dynamos and motors with much emphasis placed on the actual methods of winding armatures and the locations of armature troubles. Practice is given in keeping the motors and generators about the laboratory and shops in repair. Some time is also devoted to alternating current apparatus. 1.20, 2.20, 3.20. Bldg. 672-D-G. Cpl. LESTER, in charge of the course; Pvt. OSTER.

DEPARTMENT OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

The University has a very well equipped mechanical engineering laboratory and is prepared to give a complete course in mechanical engineering laboratory work. The laboratory is so arranged that a large number of students can be taught shop practice subjects in addition to experimental tests, etc.

The laboratories have a combined floor space of approximately 25,000 square feet and consist of three large airplane hangars erected end to end, containing the machine shop, gas and oil engines, steam units and automobile laboratory. The boiler room is an adjoining corrugated iron building and a fourth hangar is used for the airplane and airplane motors. The carpenter shop is in a separate building nearby. A 60 cm. railroad which serves as a source of supply to the laboratories runs down the centre through the entire length of the hangars, and with 1,000 meters of track connects with the standard gauge railroad supplying the camp.

The carpenter shop is equipped with electric driven machines and there is a sufficient supply of small hand tools with benches for use in instruction in carpentry, pattern and cabinet making as well as general woodworking. The handwork is supplemented by instruction in the care and use of the woodworking machine tools.

The airplane laboratory, housed in a hangar 65 feet by 150 feet, is equipped with all necessary tools for ground instruction in airplane mechanics and airplane design. There are eight airplanes of different makes, complete and in flying condition, available for ground study. In addition, several engines are available for test and study.

The machine shop contains a large number of electric driven machines, and has available for use an engineer mobile blacksmith shop, a mobile carpenter shop, and a mobile ordnance heavy repair shop.

There is a large gas engine equipment and a number of automobile engines of different makes and a large gasoline locomotive. The power is absorbed by a Prony brake or in the case of the electrical units is absorbed electrically.

The steam equipment consist of three 100 H. P. Chandler & Taylor Corliss type engines, one 90 H. P. slide valve throttling engine, two 500 K. W. Westinghouse Parsons steam turbines, five steam pumps of various sizes, a large assortment of accessories, two locomotive type boilers, one hoisting unit consisting of boiler and engine, and one German 60 cm. steam locomotive.

The automobile laboratory is equipped to accommodate 250 students. The equipment includes twenty automobiles of different makes, which give examples of every kind of automobile construction. There are also twenty separate automobile motors for engine study, and twenty rear axle assemblies. The shop is prepared to give instruction in welding and in any machine tool work pertaining to auto repair.

There is a considerable amount of miscellaneous apparatus throughout the laboratories, and there are facilities for giving instruction to students in almost any line of mechanical work they desire, from the elementary work for the beginners to the advanced experimental work for the graduate student,

COURSES OF STUDY

ME 1B. Applied Mechanics. — A study of the principles of equilibrium and their application to the analysis of forces involved in framed structures and machines ; rectilinear, curvilinear and harmonic motions ; force, mass, acceleration, work and power. The solution of a large number of practical problems and laboratory work demonstrating principles studied. Prerequisite, M 3A, Plane Trigonometry, or its equivalent. 8.20, 11.20. Bldg. 669-F-H. Lt. BEADLE, in charge of the course ; Lt. CRUM, Lt. MARSHALL, Sgt. MERRIAM.

ME 2A. Mechanical Drawing. — Use of drawing instruments, graphic representation of simple problems of design, projections of graphic representations of solids, conventional methods of representing machine parts. The course consists largely of drafting room work based upon the best modern practice in industrial plants. 8.20, 9.20, 10.20, 11.20, 2.20, 3.20. Bldg. 671. Mr. JENKINS, in charge of the course ; Lt. BUCKLES, Pvt. EARL, Pvt. GROCE, Sgt. HIPSLEY, Cpl. PARENT, Pvt. SHAFFER, Pvt. SHAW, Pvt. SHERINIAN, Sgt. WECKERLY.

ME 3B. Mechanism-Kinematics of Machines. — Study of the principles underlying the action of the elementary combinations of which all machines are composed ; the communication of motion by gear wheels, belts, cams, screws, and link work ; means of producing changes of velocity ; epicyclic trains ; parallel and quick return motions. Prerequisite, M 3A, Plane Trigonometry, and ME 2A, Mechanical Drawing, or their equivalents. 9.20. Bldg. 669-F. Lt. BEADLE.

ME 4B. Machine Design. — Lectures, recitations, and drawing room practice in the calculation and design of various mechanisms and machine parts. Prerequisite, CE 6B, Mechanics of Materials, or its equivalent. 8.20, 11.20, 2.20, 3.20. Bldg. 669-A-H-K. Lt. MARSHALL, in charge of the course ; Pvt. BOHNSTENGEL.

ME 5B. Heating and Ventilation. — A study of the principles and practice of modern heating and ventilation, including hot air, hot water, and steam systems, and their combinations as applied to the heating and ventilation of residences, public buildings, industrial plants, etc. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary physics, and ME 2A, Mechanical Drawing, or its equivalent. 9.20. Bldg. 669-D. Capt. DANIEL.

ME 6B. Steam Boilers and Engines. — A study of fuels, their combustion under steam boilers, the principles underlying the generation and use of steam in the boiler, steam engines of various types, and the auxiliary apparatus used in connection with boilers and engines in the steam power plant. The course includes a certain amount of laboratory practice. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary physics and algebra. 9.20. Bldg. 669-H. Lt. BLACK, in charge of the course; Lt. POUND.

ME 7B. Gas Engineering. — Principles underlying the conversion of heat into mechanical energy through the medium of the internal combustion engine. This includes the study of the gas producer and the principles of operation of various types of motors used in both stationary and automobile practice. There is a considerable amount of laboratory practice. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary chemistry, and ME 1B, Applied Mechanics, and ME 8B, Heat Engineering, or their equivalents. 9.20, 10.20. Bldg. 669-J. Lt. RAYMOND.

ME 8B. Heat Engineering. — A study of the fundamental laws underlying the conversion of heat into mechanical energy; a detailed study of the theoretical possibilities of various types of engines including the steam engine, steam turbine, and all possible forms of gas engines; numerous problems involving the calculation of the efficiency of the steam engine, gas engine, air compressor, refrigerating machine, etc. Special attention is given to the analysis of such problems by means of the temperature-entropy diagram. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary physics and mathematics through calculus. 10.20. Bldg. 669-H. Lt. POUND.

ME 9B. Steam Turbine Engineering. — A study of the thermodynamic principles underlying the theory of steam turbine design; descriptive study of various classes of turbines and their particular adaptability for various uses. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary physics, and ME 8B, Heat Engineering, or its equivalent. 9.20. Bldg. 509. Capt. MERICK.

ME 10B. Power Plants and Power Transmission. — A study of the design and construction of steam power plants for mills, electric generating stations, etc. This includes the study of suitable power plant auxiliaries, buildings, piping systems, fuel storage facilities, cost of power, etc. Prerequisite, ME 8B, Heat Engineering, and ME 9B, Steam Turbine Engineering, or their equivalents. 10.20. Bldg. 669-D. Capt. DANIEL.

ME 11B. Automobile Engineering. — A study of the various important mechanisms of the automobile, including engine, running gear and transmission and the various methods of assembly to form the complete machine; discussion of the efficiency and durability of various combinations, and design of a complete chassis. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary mechanics, and ME 3B, Mechanism-Kinematics of Machines, and ME 7B, Gas Engineering, or their equivalents. 8.20, 9.20. Bldg. 669. Lt. DAVIS.

ME 12B. Materials of Engineering. — A study of the methods of manufacture and properties of the more commonly used materials of construction, such as steel, concrete, timber, etc. Numerous problems involving the design of structures composed of these materials are studied, and as far as opportunity permits, actual tests of these materials are conducted in order to determine their behavior in practice. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary mechanics and chemistry. 10.20. Bldg. 669-A. Pvt. BOHNSTENGEL.

ME 13C. Industrial Organization and Management. — A course of lectures and practical problems in modern industrial management and organization: the growth and development of the efficiency movement and its effect on wages, costs, production, methods, factory layout, stores accounting, and factory welfare work. Prerequisite, two years of college engineering or two years of practical shop work. 9.20, 10.20. Bldg. 669-G. Capt. MERICK.

DIVISION SCHOOL COURSES

DV 1. Automobile Operation and Repair. — This course with DV 3 and DV 16 covers the operation and maintenance of all types of internal combustion units, including assembling, repair, and adjustment with study of nomenclature and test. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. 8.20-11.10, 9.20-12.10, 1.20-4.10. Mechanical Engineering Laboratory. Lt. RAYMOND, in charge of the course; Cpl. FARR, Sgt. HUNT, M. E. ROWLAND.

DV 2. Automobile Starting, Lighting and Ignition Systems. — The course covers the starting, lighting and ignition equipment of modern automobiles. Laboratory equipment is provided and a large part of the time is devoted to practical tests with the apparatus. 8.20-10.10, 9.20-11.10. Bldg. 672-E-G. Lt. BURKE, in charge of the course; Cpl. ALEXANDER, Sgt. COYLE, Pvt. HOWE, Sgt. STANFORD.

DV 3. Gas, Gasoline and Oil Engine Operation. — See DV 1.

DV 4. Care and Operation of Steam Boilers. — This course with DV 5 covers the operation and maintenance of several types of steam driven power units; fuel, maintenance and equipment together with the testing of actual machines. 8.20-12.10. Capt. DANIEL, in charge of the course; Lt. BLACK, Lt. RAYMOND.

DV 5. Care and Operation of Steam Engines. — See DV 4.

DV 7. Shop Sketching; Mechanical Drawing and Lettering. — This course is intended for men who wish to become draftsmen or who wish to acquire a working knowledge of mechanical drawing. Two days each week are devoted to shop sketching and three days to the principles of mechanical drawing. The work is arranged in the beginning so as to meet the needs of the students as a group, and as it progresses to meet the needs of the individual students. 8.20-10.10, 10.20-12.10, 1.20-3.10. Bldg. 671. Lt. DUNHAM, in charge of the course; Cpl. PARENT.

DV 14. Carpentry and General Wood Work. — The course is designed to meet the needs of men who desire instruction in the reading of blue prints, working from details, and outside carpentry in general such as framing, outside finishing and trussing, and wherever possible the operation of wood working machinery. Whenever practicable, men may specialize in any one of the branches in which they are not proficient. 8.20-10.10, 10.20-12.10, 1.20-3.10. Bldg. 673. Lt. BIRD, in charge of the course; Sgt. BUCK, Lt. DEAL.

DV 16. Airplane Repair. — See DV 4.

DV 17 Shop Mathematics. — This is a practical course in elementary mathematics as used in the shop. The fundamental principles of mathematics are discussed, shop terms and processes being used. Numerous applications to shop problems are given, which develop in the student an ability to apply mathematical and scientific principles to his every-day work. The applications relate largely to the metal working and electrical trades, but the work is not applied so closely to these trades that it will not be of interest and value to men in other lines of industry. It is also recommended as a course of mathematics preparatory to more advanced technical subjects. 10.20, 1.20. Bldg. 669-F-G-L. Pvt. BORTZ, in charge of the course; Pvt. SYMONDS.

DEPARTMENT OF MINING ENGINEERING

The aim of the department of mining engineering is to present in the short time allowed a broad general prospect of the essential knowledge required of a person following the profession of mining. To this end courses are given in mining, mineralogy, surveying, metallurgy, and ore dressing, the College of Science presenting the courses in geology needed by students in mining.

The courses in mine surveying are conducted in the field, and there is a sufficient number of the necessary instruments for this work. Students who are qualified are given more advanced work in special sections along theoretical lines, and intensive laboratory work when equipment is available. The mineralogical laboratory has a hundred specimens of the common and important minerals obtained by purchase, and about as many more by gift from M. Changarnier, conservateur of the Museum at Beaune, where there are more extensive mineral collections which can be used. There is also a much larger number of handsome specimens loaned by the University of Dijon, and considerable collections made by the students. Sets of the standard minerals will be put into the hands of each student.

COURSES OF STUDY

MnE 2B. Mine Surveying and Mapping. — A practical course in the theory of the construction, care, use and adjustment of the instruments of the survey; stellar and solar observations for determining the meridian; initiating the survey; surface surveys; carrying the meridian underground, and executing the underground survey; triangulation; topographical surveying; mapping the survey. About seventy-five per cent of the work in this course is carried on in the field by the students, in practical work under the direction of the instructor, while the other twenty-five per cent of the work consists of lectures, drafting, etc. Prerequisite, M 3A, Plane Trigonometry, or its equivalent. 1.20-3.40. Bldg. 667-E. Capt. DIETRICH.

MnE 3C Elements of Mining and General Efficiency. — A series of lectures upon the main engineering features involved in the operation of mines and mine management. 9.20. Bldg. 667-F. Capt. ARCHBALD.

MnE 4A. Mineralogy. — This course is one of practical determination of common minerals and to some extent of rocks by their physical characters. The instruction is by lectures and laboratory handling of specimens. The extensive collections of the Museum at Beaune have been placed at our disposal by M. Changarnier, the curator, and the mineralogical and geological department of the neighboring University of Dijon has been of assistance. Within easy distance of the University are important mineral localities and mines to which the students are making excursions. 8.20. Bldg. 667-K. Dr. LANE, in charge of the course; Mr. QUICK.

MnE 3C. Mining Seminar. — This course is open to students in engineering and science, but work is given in general to advanced students. It is rated as a half course. Students are required to prepare papers on subjects with which they are conversant through practical experience. The class discusses the paper. Topics of greatest value to mining engineers are given precedence. 2.20. Bldg. 667-E. Capt. RAY.

MnE 7A. Metallurgy. — The course in metallurgy comprises a series of lectures covering the underlying principles of the extraction of metals from their ores, and a subsequent series dealing in detail with the metallurgy of each of the important metals of commerce. Students are required to prepare papers summarizing the lectures on the various metals and to prepare a more lengthy paper dealing with the metallurgy of one or more of these metals. Prerequisite, a knowledge of elementary chemistry, physics and algebra. 4.20. Bldg. 667-L. Capt. RAY.

MnE 8A. Ore Dressing. — The course consists of two lecture hours a week. The principles of ore dressing are given in elementary form, and are enlarged upon as far as time and available printed matter permit. 1.20. Bldg. 667-G. Cpl. RYPINSKI.

COLLEGE OF JOURNALISM

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Mr. Fogg
Director

Capt. Rupert
Assistant Director

Lt. Boeh
Supply Officer

Lt. Marshall
Construction Officer

INSTRUCTORS

The purpose of the College of Journalism is to provide students intending to go into journalism with practical training in various forms of journalistic writing ; to train them in the work of the editor ; to emphasize the social aspects of the work of the journalist ; and to guide such students in laying a solid foundation in those subjects essential for the broadly equipped journalist, — economics, history, literature, philosophy, psychology, political science, and social science.

The laboratory, arranged as a « city room », and the newspaper reading room are the work shops of the students. In the reading room are current files of various types of American, English, and French dailies and weeklies. The students in journalism also have access to the newspapers and magazines in the reading room of the department of history, and reference books are reserved in the journalism alcove in the University library.

In addition to the classroom instruction, students will have opportunity in connection with the "A. E. F. University News", the University newspaper published under the auspices of the College of Journalism, to gather, write, and edit news; and in conjunction with the department of history they may get in H 6C, Current History, training in the editing of current events bulletins, summaries of significant world news which will be distributed throughout the A. E. F. Students in the course J 4B, The Special Article, are given practical training in connection with the writing of the official history of the American E. F. University.

A course of lectures open to the University public has been arranged under the auspices of the College of Journalism to be given by prominent journalists connected with the Peace Conference. The course was opened by William Allen White, editor of the Emporia (Kansas) Gazette, whose subject was « Reporting the Peace Conference », and invitations to speak have been accepted by the following : John Bass of the Chicago Evening News ; Edward Dolleans of Paris, professor of political economy and social psychology, University of Dijon, lecturer on constitutional law and political economy to the American students at the University of Paris ; Patrick Gallagher of the New York Herald, subject « The Far East » ; Reginald Wright Kauffman of the New York Tribune, subject « The Newspaper and the Novel » ; George H. Peet of the Washington Bureau of the Associated Press, liaison officer of the French government ; Walter S. Rogers of Chicago and New York, adviser to the Peace Conference on wire and radio communication problems, director of the United States Radio News Service, subjects « World-Wide Communication » and « World-Wide News Distribution » ; Herbert Bayard Swope, city editor of The World, New York ; Henry Kitchell Webster of Chicago, novelist, subject « Some Essentials of Fiction Writing ».

Major Fred M. Fling, Chief of the Diplomatic Division of the U. S. War College and head of the department of European history in the University of Nebraska, will speak on « German Imperialism » and « The Journalist and the Facts », and there will be lectures on the following subjects by members of the University faculty : « Journalism and Agriculture », Dr. Butterfield ; « History and the Journalist », Mr. Evans ; « The Newspaper as a Social Factor », Major Parker ; « The Legal Ethics of the Journalist », Captain Seavey ; « The Journalist and the Human Mind », Mr. Williams.

COURSES OF STUDY

J 1B. Newspaper writing. — A study of the structure and style of journalistic narrative, of news values, and of kinds of straight news stories. Getting the news, « covering » actual news events. The « human interest » story. Practical training, from the point of view of the editor's desk, in accurate, concise, vivid writing. 9.20, 10.20, 1.20. Bldgs. 522, east end and west end, 565-B-C. Lt. BALLARD, Capt. GRAHAM, Capt. Pvt. EMORY, RUPERT, Sgt. WILSON

J 2B. Newspaper Editing. — Practice in handling « copy » ; editing, rewriting, headline writing, proof-reading, make-up ; discussion of methods of presenting news. Problems and policies ; the relation of the press to the public ; the press in a democracy ; sensational journalism ; journalistic ethics, suppressing, « cooking », faking ; the law of libel ; comparative study of newspapers on file. 10.20. Bldg. 565-C-D. Capt. GRAHAM, Cpl. WILLIAMS, Sgt. WILSON.

J 3B. Agricultural Journalism. — Study and practice of the principles of news and editorial writing as applied to the rural field. The course deals with agricultural subject matter. Special news-gathering trips to nearby rural communities and enterprises. 8.20 Bldg. 566 Mr. BECKMAN, Lt. CHARLES.

J 4B. The Special Article. — Practice in writing for publication the « feature » story. General narrative, description, and expository writing on subjects of local interest or that arise out the news of the day. Study, from a « feature » angle, of French life and of the soldier's environment and experiences of the war. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. 2.20 Bldg. 522, east and west. Cpl. DAVIDSON, Cpl. WILLIAMS.

J 6B. The Editorial. — Study of the editorial article, with practice in writing it on subjects of local interest and on general questions of the day. Types of the editorial. Methods and influence of representative editors. Tuesday and Thursday. Bldg. 522, east. Mr. FOGG.

J 7B. The Short Story. — A practical course in the building of plots, the writing of dramatic narrative, and the handling of fiction material and manuscript with a view to salability. A laboratory course in the construction of short fiction. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. 10.20. Bldg. 522 west. Cpl. DAVIDSON. Pvt. MANKIEWICZ.

A course in "Advertising Copy" is given as English 14 C in the .. College of Letters for students of journalism.

COLLEGE OF LAW

Assistant Director and Supply Officer

INSTRUCTORS

Lt. Appel, Dr. Burke, Major McAdam, Pvt. Phipps, Sgt. Prashker.

The College of Law has been organized to allow members of the A.E.F. to begin or to continue their legal studies in a school having the same ideals and teaching methods as the best American law schools. The standards are those of the American Law School Association and the work given will prepare students for the bar of any state. The « Case System » of teaching has been adopted. A small library of English and American books is available for the use of students. This library has been supplemented and enlarged by mimeographing selected cases for class-room work.

A certificate will be given for all work completed. Each course represents a complete course as given in an American law school.

A high school course or its equivalent is required for entrance.

COURSES OF STUDY

L 1A. Elementary Law. — Development of American law, use of reports, study of cases, divisions of law. (This course occupied fifteen hours and was completed the first week of the term.) 8.20; 10.20, 1.20. Bldg. 402.

L 2A. Torts. — Assault, battery, false imprisonment, trespass, negligence, casual connection, extra hazardous uses, liability of land owners, deceit, malicious prosecution, defamation, and combinations. 9.20. Bldg. 402. Capt. SEAVEY.

L 3A. Contracts. — Mutual assent, consideration, conditions, discharge, and illegality. Lectures. 8.20, 1.20. Bldg. 402. Lt. APPEL.

L 4A. Criminal Law. — The act, mens rea, attempts, accessories, justification, and specific crimes. 3.20. Bldg. 403. Dr. BURKE.

L 5B. Agency. — The relationship, the persons, the formalities, liability of principal to third persons, undisclosed principal, liability of principal to agent, liability of agent to principal and third persons, ratification, and end of relationship. Prerequisite, one year of law. 11.20. Bldg. 403. Sgt. PRASHKER.

Pharmacy 2B. Laboratory. — Ten hours weekly devoted to pharmaceutical laboratory consisting of the manufacture of official preparations. 2.20 — 4.40. Bldg. 571. Capt. PRESTON, Sgt. WAGGONER.

Pharmacy 3B. Pharmaceutical Arithmetic. — This course is presented didactically and consists of lectures, recitations and written examinations, instruction being mainly to familiarize students with terms used, different systems of weights used and practical experience in covering prescriptions as they would come before them in the practice of pharmacy. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. 10.20. Bldg. 140. Sgt. WAGGONER.

Pharmacy 4B Chemistry. — The course in chemistry in the department of Pharmacy consists of 5 hours recitation and lectures weekly and ten hours laboratory, both lectures and laboratory being carried on in the College of Science.

Pharmacy 5B. Theory and Practice of Pharmacy. — The course is presented didactically and consists of lectures and recitations with frequent quizzes together with written examinations, the idea being to present to the student in the short time allotted as large and complete a view of the profession as possible. The latter part of term is given to review of work previously covered. 4.20. Bldg. 140. Capt. PRESTON.

VETERINARY

Vet 1. Anatomy. — The course consists of four lecture periods of one hour each and two laboratory periods of two hours each, weekly. The twelve weeks course is divided into osteology, covering a period of five weeks, arthrology, covering one week, and myology, covering six weeks. Monday, 10.20, 9.20-11.20. Thursday, 9.20, 2.20-3.20. Friday, 11.20, 2.20-3.20. Bldg. 523. Capt. BALTHASER, Capt. DAVIS.

Vet 2. Pharmacology and Preliminary Medicine. — The course consists of lectures covering the following outline: nomenclature, pharmaceutical arithmetic, pharmaceutical operations, official preparations. Tuesday, 2.20, 3.20. Bldg. 523. Major BEAUMAN.

Vet 3. Physiology. — The course is designed to comply with the standards of veterinary colleges in the United States, and includes a study of the normal functions of the different systems, circulatory, respiratory, etc. Lectures and recitations. Monday, 11.20. Tuesday, 1.20. Friday, 10.20. Bldg. 523. Major UDALL.

The Science Departments of the University are grouped in the College of Science for administrative purposes. The following departments are included : astronomy, botany, chemistry, geography and geology, mathematics, physics, psychology, public health and hygiene, and zoology.

The courses offered have been planned on the basis of the four-quarter system and each course is adapted to the uses which the student proposes to make of the knowledge gained. To make this flexible without departing from accepted university standards the students registering for each course are divided into sections in which the general training will be the same, but in which special emphasis on the various parts of the subject matter will be varied to meet the demand and the teaching facilities available.

In the main there are three classes of students whose needs have been anticipated ; those who need instruction in mathematics or training in a laboratory science in order to do their best work in engineering, medicine, education, agriculture or other professional courses when they return to the universities in the United States ; those who desire to obtain such special instruction and practical training as may better prepare them to obtain positions as technicians or inspectors in laboratories and industrial establishments ; those who wish instruction in the courses offered for their general cultural value.

Adequate space for both lecture and laboratory instruction has been planned and the necessary equipment ordered transferred from the Army depots of the Medical Department, the Chemical Warfare Service, and the Quartermasters Department.

This equipment includes for each student in the biological laboratories all essential instruments and supplies required, including a microscope with oil immersion lenses, mechanical stage and other accessories. Each laboratory is provided with sterilizers, incubators, microtomes and other useful apparatus. The chemical laboratories are similarly equipped, each student's desk being provided with the usual re-agents and glassware in addition to such apparatus as acetylene burners, water and compressed air connections, sinks and available hoods, water baths, crucibles, stills, analytical balances and standardized volumetric apparatus. Full advantage will be taken of the location of the University on teaching geology, public health and other department courses through field work.

In addition to the reference books supplied by the general library of the University, text books already in the A.E.F. equipment or procurable in England have been ordered. It is expected that some readjustment of the instruction during the early weeks of the first quarter may be necessary owing to delay in the arrival of equipment, but the instructors have prepared for this contingency.

The courses are grouped according to the alphabetical order of the departments comprising the College. Statements of lecture and laboratory periods are on the basis of the work required each week.

ASTRONOMY

A 1A. Descriptive Astronomy. — An orderly statement of the facts about our solar system, the stars, comets, and nebulae. 9.20. Bldg. 569-G. Dr. BUCHANAN.

BOTANY

B 1A. Elementary Botany. — A general study of plant life, with study of typical representatives of each important group. Emphasis on laboratory manipulation, microscopic technique and the scientific method. Lectures and laboratory. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 8.20. Tuesday and Thursday, 8.20-10.10. Bldg. 569-J. Sgt. PAYSON.

B 2A. Agricultural Botany. — A study of the structure, life functions, and environments of plants in general, followed by a study of the classification, anatomy, physiology and ecology of the more important fruit, cereal and vegetable crops, including study of common weeds and poisonous plants and methods of eradication. Lectures and laboratory. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 10.20. Tuesday and Thursday, 10.20-12.10. Bldg. 569-H. Sgt. GRATZ.

B 3B. Plant Pathology. — A study of the common diseases of ordinary crops and of the organisms and other factors producing disease; the life histories of disease-producing organisms, classification, and their environmental requirements; methods of controlling or eradicating plant diseases. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, B 1A, Elementary Botany, or B 2A, Agricultural Botany, or equivalent. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 2:20-3.40. Tuesday and Thursday, 2.20-4.10. Bldg. 569-H. Cpl. BURRITT.

B 4C. Advanced Botany. — Advanced work in genetics, histology, morphology, or cryptogamic botany is arranged for properly qualified students provided a sufficient demand exists. Lectures and laboratory. Students admitted only after consultation with instructors. Hours to be arranged.

CHEMISTRY

Ch 1A. General Inorganic Chemistry. — A study of the principles of chemistry and the properties and uses of the simpler elements and compounds. Lectures and laboratory. 8.20-10.40, 10.20-12.10. Bldgs. 571, 575, 586-A-B. Lt. BOUGHTON, Sgt. COMFORT. Capt. CRAIG, Lt. HARNES, Lt. MILLER, Lt. NORRIS, Cpl. POTTLE, Lt. RAUTH, Pvt. SHADE. Sgt. THOMS, Mr. SELLERS, Sgt. WATTS.

Ch 2A. Qualitative Analysis. — The course consists of a study of the methods used to separate and identify the common metals and acid radicals. It includes practice in the analysis of salts, alloys, and other substances of commercial importance. It is preceded by a short review of inorganic chemistry. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Ch 1A, General Inorganic Chemistry, or its equivalent. 1.20-3.40. Bldgs. 571, 586-A. Sgt. COMFORT, Capt. CRAIG, Lt. RAUTH, Sgt. THOMS.

Ch 3B. Quantitative Analysis. — A study of the simple methods of gravimetric and volumetric analysis; analysis of substances of unknown composition. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Ch 1A, General Inorganic Chemistry, and Ch 2A, Qualitative Analysis, or their equivalents. 8.20-10.10. Bldgs. 571, 586-B. Lt. AVNER, Sgt. COMFORT.

Ch 4C. Organic Chemistry. — The course covers the elementary principles of organic chemistry, attention being paid to the compounds of practical importance. The laboratory practice is devoted to a study of the preparation and properties of a few typical substances. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Ch 1A, General Inorganic Chemistry, and Ch 2A, Qualitative Analysis, or their equivalents. 8.20-10.10. Conference (Optional) 3.20. Bldgs. 571, 586-D. Cpl. POTTLE, Lt. SENIOR.

Ch 3B. Industrial Chemistry. — A study of the chemistry of water, fuels, acids, alkalies, fertilizers, petroleum oils, fats and waxes, soaps, rubber, asphalt, textiles, dyes, paper, ceramics and glass, cement and illuminating gas. Prerequisite, Ch 1A, General Inorganic Chemistry Ch 2A, Qualitative Analysis, and Ch 4C. Organic Chemistry, or their equivalents. 1.20. Bldg. 586-D. Lt. BOUGHTON, Pvt. MILLS.

Ch 6C. Agricultural Chemistry. — A study of dairy and soil chemistry, and the chemistry of food and nutrition. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Ch 1A. General Inorganic Chemistry, Ch 2A. Qualitative Analysis and Ch 4C, Organic Chemistry, or their equivalents. 10.20-12.10. Bldgs, 571, 586-C. Lt. BOUGHTON, Lt. HARNES, Pvt. MILLS.

GEOGRAPHY AND GEOLOGY

Gy 1A. Physical Geography. — A study of land forms and physiographic processes; the work of the atmosphere, surface water and underground water; processes involved in the formation and alteration of various land forms such as mountains, plains, plateaux, etc.; physiographic control of life and industries. Field trips once a week for the purpose of study of local physiography. 11.20. Bldg. 667-G. Cpl. TURMAN.

Gy 2A. Commercial Geography. — A study of the producing regions of the earth, conditions determining production and exchange of commodities, commercial centers of the world, with special reference to the United States, agriculture, mining, manufacturing, and commerce in modern industrial development. 11.20. Bldg. 667-E. Lt. PETTY.

Gy 3B. Industrial and Commercial Geography. Advanced Course. — Study of the leading industries from world wide standpoint, with constant reference to the United States; comparative study of leading agricultural countries; mineral resources and their influence on modern industrial development; comparison of leading manufacturing nations; world commerce; routes of trade; movement of commodities. 8.20. Bldg. 667-E. Lt. PETTY.

Gy 4B. Geography of Europe. — A study of the world and regional relations of the continent together with the relief and climatic controls evidenced in its political and racial development, followed by a detailed study of the law of cause and effect in its relation to the development of the people of the more important countries. Reference is also made to the geographic causes of the more important changes in the political frontiers as a result of the war. 9.20. Bldg. 667-E. Pvt. NUTTING.

Gy 6A. General Geology. — A study of the agents and processes active on the earth and the materials with which they work, followed by a brief survey of the history of the earth as evidenced by the rocks thereon. Special attention is given the local condition in numerous field trips which form an integral part of the course. 10.20. Bldg. 667-E. Pvt. NUTTING.

Gy 7B. Economic Geology. — A study of the raw materials derived from the earth ; their geologic formation and associations ; their distribution geographically. Among the materials studied are : coal, iron, natural gas, petroleum, copper, lead, zinc, gold, silver and building materials such as stone, cement, clay. 11.20. Bldg. 677-K. Lt. AVERY.

Gy 8B. Advanced Geology. — A study of structural and stratigraphic geology, with special attention to local geology ; also a short consideration of historical geology. 10.20. Bldg. 667. Pvt. ROBINSON.

Gy 9C. Seminar in Field Geology. — The course consists largely of field work, and embraces the careful study of local geology and the preparation of papers on the same. The class meets one each week for the presentation and discussion of papers by members of the class. Evenings. Bldg. 562.

MATHEMATICS

M 1A. Review of Secondary Mathematics. — Highschool algebra and plane and solid geometry. 8.20, 9.20, 11.20, 2.20. Bldgs. 508-A, 583-A, 584-C. Sgt. ANDERSON, Pvt. DAGES, Sgt. MUELLER, Lt. POINTER, WAGONER PONDER.

M 2A. College Algebra. — 9.20, 11.20, 1.20. Bldgs. 583-B-C, 584-A-B-C. Mr. ALLEN, Capt. BACK, Lt. FENTRESS, Lt. HEDLUND, Lt. POINTER.

M 3A. Plane Trigonometry. — 8.20, 10.20, 3.20. Bldgs. 508-F, 583-A-B-C, 584-A-B-D. Capt. BACK, Capt. BONNEY, Dr. BUCHANAN, Lt. FENTRESS, Lt. HEDLUND, Capt. McKELVEY, Capt. PRIDE, Capt. REHM, Lt. WOOD.

M 4A. Spherical Trigonometry and Navigation. — 1.20. Bldg. 583-A. Capt. McKELVEY.

M 6A. Analytic Geometry. — 10.20, 2.20. Bldgs. 583-C-D, 584-D. Capt. BONNEY, Lt. CRUM, Capt. PRIDE, Lt. WOOD.

M 7B. Differential Calculus. — 8.20, 10.20. Bldg. 584-A-C. Capt. REHM, Lt. WOOD.

M 8C. Integral Calculus. — 9.20, 11.20. Bldg. 583-D. Mr. ALLEN, Capt. PRIDE.

M 9C. Analytical Mechanics. — An elementary course based upon the laws of motion, given in connection with a course in applied mechanics of the College of Engineering; mainly devoted to the work usually covered in statics, with merely an introduction to kinetics. 9.20 Bldg. 584-A. Lt. CRUM.

M 10C. Higher Course in Calculus. — 11.20. Bldg. 584-D. Lt. WOOD.

M 11A. Mathematics of Business. — This is an elementary course in the mathematical theory of finance, investment, depreciation and life insurance. The purpose of the course is to give the student an idea of how the theory of mathematics is applied to the following phases of business: the evaluation of investments, the depreciation of bonds, public utilities, and machinery, the basis of the calculation of the premiums of life insurance, and the methods of making an evaluation of the business of a life insurance company and determining the surrender values of the different kinds of policies. Prerequisite, a knowledge of high school algebra. 3.20. Bldg. 583-D. Dr. BUCHANAN.

PHYSICS

Ph 1A. General Physics. — A study of elementary mechanics and heat. Lectures, laboratory and recitations. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 10.20. Tuesday and Thursday, 10.20, 11.20. Bldg. 508-D-E-F-G. Capt. FRENCH, Sgt. LING, Dr. STRADLING and Sgt. ZIESKE.

Ph 2B. Advanced Physics. — Optics. Prerequisite, one year of college physics and trigonometry. 2.20. Bldg. 508-G. Sgt. LING.

Ph 3B. Electricity and Magnetism. — A more detailed and advanced course in electricity and magnetism than is usually covered by the first year of general college physics. Prerequisite, one year of college physics and trigonometry. 2.20. Bldg. 508-E. Pvt. NEWPORT.

Ph 4C. Wireless and Vacuum Tubes. — The discharge of electricity through rarified gases, the discharge of electricity from hot bodies with application to X-rays and wireless telegraphy and wireless telephony. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, one year's work in college physics and trigonometry is necessary; a knowledge of calculus and advanced electricity and magnetism is advisable. 9.20. Bldg. 508-G. Lt. TAYLOR.

PSYCHOLOGY

Psy 1B. First Course in Psychology. — The course is designed for those students who desire to be introduced to the field of modern scientific psychology. It is the equivalent of the first course in psychology ordinarily offered in the sophomore year of American colleges and universities. 11.20, 1.20, 2.20. Bldgs. 569. Mr. BYERS, Dr. EBY, Dr. WILLIAMS.

Psy 2C. Applied Psychology. — This course is designed for those students who desire to follow modern psychology into its various applied fields. It is of special interest to students in the fields of business, journalism, education, medicine and law. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Psy 1B, a First Course in Psychology, or its equivalent. Monday, 9.20-11.40, 3.20-4.40. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 10.20. Bldg. 569, Dr. WILLIAMS.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND HYGIENE

Pu H 1A. Elementary Course. — The course presents the scientific principles underlying modern hygienic practices and sanitary measures. The lectures are illustrated by lantern slides, demonstration models and motion pictures. Open to all students. 3.20. Bldg. 508-E. Lt. BAY.

Pu H 2B. Sanitary Inspection Course. — This course is open to students who have had sufficient instruction in elementary science to understand epidemiological problems and inspection work. 1.20. Bldg. 585-D. Lt. NEUMANN.

Pu H 5A. General Physiology. — An introductory course intended primarily for the general student. Lectures and laboratory. 8.20. Bldg. 508-E. Lt. BAY.

ZOOLOGY

Z 1A. Elementary Zoology. — The laboratory work constitutes the foundation of the lectures, and provides practice in dissection, the use and care of the microscope, and the writing of scientific descriptions. The anatomy, physiology, heredity and evolution of animals is considered. Lectures and laboratory. Open to all students. 8.20, 1.20, Bldg. 569-F. Lt. JORDAN, Sgt. MOSER, Cpl. MUTTKOWSKI.

Z 2B. Economic Zoology. — This course deals with the various parasites which are of economic importance and with the methods in present use for controlling them. Laboratory study of all available parasites. Lectures and laboratory. Prerequisite, Z 1A, Elementary Zoology, or B 1A, Elementary Botany, or equivalent.

Z 3B. Microscopical Technique. — The laboratory periods are spent in the preparation of tissues for study microscopically. The course is open only to students who intend to major in this subject on return to their respective universities or to enter medical school. Prerequisite, one year of college biology. 2.20-4.10. Bldg. 569-D. Lt. HANCE.

Z 4B. Advanced Zoology. — Work in special fields of zoology may be arranged to meet the needs of the student. Such subjects as comparative anatomy, protozoology and cytology may be taken. The course is open to qualified students on recommendation of the instructors concerned. Tuesday and Thursday. 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 569-D. Lt. HANCE, Cpl. MUTTKOWSKI.

Z 5B. Genetics. — Fundamental principles of heredity and variations as applied to the breeding of plants and animals and to the improvement of the human race. Prerequisite, one year of college zoology or botany. 11.20. Bldg. 569-E. Dr. BABCOCK, Lt. HANCE.

Z 7A. Agricultural Entomology. — The anatomy, life cycles, habits and habitat of biting and sucking insects of importance to agriculture are studied, together with measures which are applicable to their eradication or control. Field trips form a part of the laboratory work. Lectures and laboratory. Open to all students. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11.20. Tuesday and Thursday, 2.20-4.10. Bldg. 569-G. Capt. BEVAN.

Z 8B. Animal Histology. — The course includes laboratory studies of the structure of cells and of the primary tissues of the mammalian body, and lectures and quizzes on general histology. It is given primarily for the students of the College of Medicine, but is open to others who are qualified. Prerequisite, one year of college zoology. Monday and Wednesday. 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 569-D-E. Lt. HANCE, Lt. JORDAN, Sgt. MOSER, Cpl. MUTTKOWSKI.

Z 9B. Embryology. — A study of fertilization and of the early stages of development. Laboratory work is based chiefly on the frog and chick. The course is given primarily for the students in the College of Medicine, but is open to others who are qualified. Lectures and Laboratory. Prerequisite, one year of college zoology. Friday, 1.20-4.10. Bldg. 569-D-E. Lt. HANCE, Lt. JORDAN, Sgt. MOSER, Cpl. MUTTKOWSKI.

Aim of the school. — The aim of the American E. F. University Farm School is :

1. To give a practical course in agriculture to those young men who may desire to become farmers upon their return to the United States.
2. To acquaint men who have had limited farm experience with the different branches of agriculture, so that they may better choose the kind of farming they wish to pursue and the section of the country in which to locate.
3. To teach the advantages, problems and opportunities of rural life and to promote an appreciation of farming as a fundamental occupation.

Entrance requirements. — Any member of the American Expeditionary Forces interested in a practical course in agriculture may enter the Farm School. There are no special educational requirements.

Return to organizations. — Applications of Farm School students at Allerey to return to their organizations at the point of embarkation will be approved by the school authorities.

Certificate. — Those students who complete the course of study in a satisfactory manner will be given the American E. F. University Farm School Certificate.

Location. — The Farm School is housed in what was formerly a ten thousand bed hospital, and lies on a large level tract of good land near the town of Allerey, Saone-et-Loire, about ten miles south of Beaune, Côte-d'Or. The surrounding country is beautiful and has splendid agricultural possibilities. It has long been known as the most famous grape growing district of France, and the cultivation of pears and strawberries has reached a high state in the vicinity.

Faculty. — The teaching faculty is composed of officers and enlisted men of the Army who have had practical experience in farming and college training in agriculture.

The farm. — The school has 250 acres of tillable land, which is being planted with farm crops.

Live stock. — The live stock of the farm includes 80 head of horses and mules, 30 of which are used for farm work and the remainder for student practice; a dairy herd of 11 animals; 50 head of hogs; 100 hens. In addition it is expected that pure bred Percheron and French coach horses, pure bred Jersey and Guernsey dairy cattle, and pure bred sheep, hogs and poultry will be loaned by live stock associations in Europe.

Equipment. — The farm is equipped with farm machinery of the most modern type, selection having been made from the machinery brought over by the U. S. Garden Service with a view to extensive crop raising for the American Expeditionary Force.

Agricultural exhibit. — An educational agricultural exhibit, illustrating types of farming in the different sections of the United States, has been prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and is housed in a big fire-proof exhibition building. This shows methods of control of plant and animal disease, models of farm buildings, farm and household equipment, agricultural machinery, etc.

Class rooms. — One of the hospital units has been remodeled for class rooms and laboratory purposes.

Billeting. — The men and officers of the school are comfortably billeted in wooden barracks, formerly used as hospital wards.

Military drill. — Forty minutes each week day are devoted to military drill, except Saturday, when military inspection will occupy two hours.

Assembly. — On two evenings of each week the student body meets for a thirty minute assembly. Some of the most able men in Europe and in the United States have been secured as speakers. The addresses are to help men to choose their life work, gain a more complete understanding of America's relationship to international problems, and comprehend more fully the meaning of citizenship.

Student organization. — Two evenings a week are given over to club meetings, Dairy Club, Poultry Club, Fruit Club, Beef Club, etc. These are student organizations with student officers who are responsible for developing their own programs.

Recreation. — Two hours a day are available for recreation. Competent physical directors and coaches are at the school. Men with ability to entertain are given full opportunity to exercise their talents.

COURSES OF STUDY

AGRONOMY

Soils. — This is the basis for all work in allied subjects. Soils are considered as they are of interest to the farmer as he is interested in locating his farm, in planning his cropping system, in utilizing soil moisture, in maintaining proper soil conditions and conserving fertility. In the practical work opportunity is given to study different soil formations, the result of late and early plowing, the effect of mulching and rolling, etc.

Fertilizers and Manures. — The soil is here considered as the "bank of the agricultural world", and the possible profits and losses are discussed. Chemistry is only touched upon, but the crops which are good or bad for the soil are dealt with, and the possibility of balancing them by a system of rotation is considered. Green manure crops are considered; animal manure is discussed under such headings as Value, Ways of Handling, Method of Applying, etc. The advisability of using chemical fertilizers in different sections of the United States is discussed and suggestions given for the buying of mixed and unmixed fertilizers. Fertilisers are mixed in the laboratory as they are on the farm.

Field Crops. — The class room work in field crops covers such points as soil and climatic requirements of different crops; preparation of seed beds; time, rate and method of seeding; plant food requirements; cultivation of growing crops and machinery used on cultivation; harvesting methods and state of maturity for harvesting; storing crops; diseases of different crops. The practical work consists of treatment of seed for smut and other fungous diseases; germination tests; identification of seeds; outdoor work, such as planting and cultivating of crops.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

Types and Breeds. — This study gives the beginners in agriculture the elementary and most important facts pertaining to the various types and breeds of horses, mules, beef and dairy cattle, hogs and sheep. It is supplemented by actual farm experience with the school stock. In the latter part of the course stock judging receives much attention.

Feeding and Management. — The common feeds are considered as to their value to animals, both in nutriment and as an aid to condition and cost in the local market in relation to the actual value. The chemistry of digestion is slightly touched upon. In the work of balancing rations only such feeds as are available on the average farm or in the local market are considered; feed samples are available for identification. During the period of this study opportunity is given for all men to have a hand in the feeding and management of the school animals.

Dairying. — This study deals with the breeds of dairy cattle, selection of cows and bulls, and breeding and feeding with special reference to dairy production. Special attention is given to laboratory work in which milk is tested, butter made and judged, and pasteurization studied.

Poultry. — This study includes a discussion of poultry breeds and types of chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys; poultry house construction; management; diseases; incubation; breeding; feeding; care of chicks and marketing. This course is of value to students who have handled poultry as well as to those who contemplate going into the business of poultry keeping.

HORTICULTURE

Vegetable Gardening. — The class work for this study covers plant propagation and cultivation; seed testing; preparation and management of seed bed; hot beds and cold frames; common diseases and insects and the means of combatting them; the culture of potatoes, cabbage, onions, tomatoes and beans, and the principles of storage of vegetables. The laboratory work takes up construction of hot beds and cold frames, the testing and identification of seeds, and the making of sprays. A special study in the field is made of root systems of vegetables. Students have the opportunity of getting actual experience in field work on the school farm.

Fruit Growing. — The class work in fruit growing includes lectures in propagation of stock in the nursery. Students do grafting and budding and make grafting wax. Attention is given to varieties and to precautions to be observed in buying fruit trees, bush fruits, vines and plants, as well as to the laying out, setting and care of orchards, vineyards and small fruit farms. Pruning and spraying receive all possible attention and demonstrations are given in orchards and vineyards of the neighborhood. Lectures and demonstrations are given on picking, packing and storage of fruit.

FARM EQUIPMENT

The school has a large selection from the farm equipment which was sent over from the United States when plans were made for the Army to grow its own food. This farm equipment is studied both in class room and in practical work. The latter takes the form of operating and taking apart and repairing such machines as farm tractors, mowing machines, gas engines, and reapers. This is supplemented by the work done by the men in their share of the farm labor. The lecture work covers kinds of equipment, housing, depreciation, and amount of machinery needed.

ECONOMICS AND SOCIOLOGY

Farm Management. — This subject involves a study of correlation of the different farm enterprises in regard to labor supply and farm income ; comparison of specialized and intensified farming with diversified farming ; keeping farm records and accounts ; farm planning ; systems of crop rotations for different types of farms ; investment in buildings and machinery ; selection and location of the farm from the standpoint of having a profitable business and a suitable environment in which to live.

Co-operation and Marketing. — The needs and advantages of co-operation are emphasized, and fundamental principles are considered from the standpoint of the individual and of the group, and the exact steps necessary to organize for co-operation. The subject of marketing is taken up, starting with a brief summary of the whole field and then applying it to towns, groups and individuals.

Agricultural Geography. — This study gives a comprehensive view of the possibilities of different kinds of farming as carried on in different sections of the United States. Soil formations, rainfall, length of growing season and temperature are taken up as they affect the farmer and his crops. New movements in agriculture are studied with a discussion of the lands still left undeveloped in the United States. World conditions are also touched upon. Standard geographies and current publications form a list of reference books.

Rural Sociology. — This study touches on the changes and distribution of the rural population, the balance between rural and urban wealth, the present rural problem and some possible agencies in the solution of this problem. During the first week the classes are formed into a Rural Community Club, after which they are conducted in that form with the president presiding and introducing the instructor or some other speaker. Talks and discussions are along such lines as Agricultural Colleges, How to Use the Extension Service, the Function of the Grange, the Rural Church, the Selection of an Agricultural Library, Rural Education, etc. The class considers itself a rural community dealing with rural problems.

SHOP WORK.

Carpentry. — For this work extra buildings are furnished so that most of the work can be of a shop type for which tools are available. The men taking this study are expected to make a great many things which are used on the farm such as « A » shaped hog-houses, hen houses, hand trap nests, sand sieves, etc. Some of the work necessitates the making of plans with emphasis on exactness in drafting. A few talks are given on such subjects as Strength of Material, Plan Making, etc.

Blacksmithing. — Forges are available and the work will take much the same practical line as outlined under the course in carpentry.

POST AND DIVISION SCHOOLS

The Post and Division Schools connected with the American E.F. University have two distinct classes of work. The Post School offers part time school work for those men on duty with the University. The Division School is intended for full time students who are not qualified to enter the University classes.

The Division School was started April 7th, with vocational courses and academic and commercial subjects of high school grade. It was established for those men who were sent here for University work, but who lacked the educational qualifications for entrance. In addition to these, many college men have registered for one or two commercial or vocational classes. The Division School is used also by the College of Education for observation classes.

When the Post School was started, every man on the post was required to fill out a questionnaire stating his previous education, vocational experience, future plans, and subjects in which he was most interested. The men who expressed a desire to take school work were divided into three groups. Arrangements were made so that those who were high school graduates could get off from work for an hour or two a day to take one or two of the regular courses offered in the University and a similar arrangement was made for those who had finished the elementary school, to take courses offered in the Division School. For men of the third group, those who had not finished elementary school, special classes were started in English, arithmetic, and citizenship.

Those men who were suspected of being unable to read and write English were sent by their commanding officers to be tested by a group composed of most of the instructors in the College of Education and in the Post and Division School. They were tentatively placed in their classes on the basis of this test, and were required to attend school from 1:20 to 4:20, five days a week.

In addition to these courses for illiterates, classes have been started in arithmetic and in English for more advanced elementary school pupils. One instructor is meeting a group of firemen in their own building for work for an hour a day in business correspondence and penmanship.

The Post School is used also by the College of Education for observation classes.

The American E. F. University is organized and operated under the control of the Fifth Section of the General Staff, General Headquarters, which section controls all educational work in the American Expeditionary Force. The officers are :

Brigadier General HAROLD B. FISKE, General Staff,
Assistant Chief of Staff G-5.

Brigadier General ROBERT I. REES, General Staff, in charge Educational Sub-Section G-5.

The Student Register, pp. 94-finis.

It is printed in Dijon, France, after the close of the American E. F. University, and after the return to America of students and faculty and the return to G. H. Q. for shipment to America of all material of reference. The copy was prepared in advance from three documents, typewritten verified copies of registration cards at Beaune, at Allerey and at Bellevue. The information was supplied by the individuals whose names are here presented some of whom had left for America weeks before the copy was made and all of whom departed without opportunity to correct, supplement, or verify the copied record. The material is now being proof-read two weeks behind the disappearance of the last student. Such errors and omissions as are thus inevitable in so large and varied a catalogue of names, titles, and abbreviations, done into manuscript by so many different hands and into type by men and women who syllabify and punctuate after a different mode, will be, we trust, neither so numerous nor so serious as to mar the significance of the record.

There are minor errors and differences of form. Some matters of doubt must be left in doubt. It is not possible at this sitting to determine whether Schylhill Pa; should be « as it is » or changed to Schuylkill Pa, whether Orient D. Dakota is North Dakota or South Dakota. The former we leave « as it is » the latter we make So. Dakota on the assumption that the typist's left finger went visiting and the critic slept.

The Register is a formidable catalogue of more than 10.500 names, with serial numbers, army organizations, street addresses and even R. F. D' S. attached. For the completeness and accuracy of the catalogue, and for the tireless pursuit of information carelessly omitted or indifferently given on registration cards, the following assistants deserve great credit and everybody's thanks :

INTRODUCTION

The organization of a University for American soldiers students at Beaune, Côte-d'Or, France, the appearance and disappearance of that institution and its various colleges, the character and amount of the work done, can be made clear in only three ways : first, by such an outline of the organization and such a description of the courses given as will clearly indicate the grade and the amount of work done; second, by such a presentation of the personnel of both faculty and students as will tell even to details who were the people that composed this group of colleges in France; third, by a graphic and photographic display of the educational and social life of this body of men.

The Catalogue giving the organization of the University and the various colleges, a description of all courses — what they were and who gave them, and a directory of the administrative and teaching personnel has already been published as Part I. This volume contains the names of all the educational body — faculty and Students — present at Beaune, Allerey and Bellevue. The material for an illustrated Supplement, Part III, has been gathered, and will, it is expected, be published, at an early date. We are presenting here, as supplementary and introductory to Part II, such data and tabulations as will assist in the more accurate interpretation of both Part I and Part II.

Supplementary to Part I

The registrar finds it necessary to recall and modify one statement made in an editorial note in Part I, and to add certain other data helpful to a proper understanding of the Catalogue.

Courses not given : The Catalogue contains the statement : « Credits were given in all courses here described ». The statement would be true if it read « Registrations were accepted in all courses here described ». The following courses described in Part I were reported at term-end as not given or as having no students for credit.

College of Education :

Ed 12C Physical Education.

College of Engineering :

CE 3 B — Field Astronomy ;

EE 8 C — Telegraphy ;

EE 10 C — Illumination ;

ME 9 C — Steam Turbine Engineering.

College of Law :

L. 10 B — Procedure and Practice ;

L. 11 BC — Constitutional Law.

College of Letters :

Ec 10 B — Delinquency ;

Eng. 11 C — Pre-Shakesperean Literature ;

Pl. 4 B — Greek Interpretation of Life.

College of Science :

AIA — Description Astronomy ;

Ph 2 B — Advanced Physics ;

Z 2 B — Economic Zoology.

This reduces the number of courses actually announced by 12 ; but in the tables that follow, these courses are not reckoned.

Credit-hours. By vote of the Council, the colleges were ordered to arrange their courses so as to meet classes five times a week at the hour specified. A later vote of the Council modified this action so as to permit a limited number of 3 hr and 2 hr courses. They also established 15 hours per week as the standard registration.

The Council thus established 3 hrs per week for eleven weeks as the credit-hours for all regular courses and 15 credit-hours per week as regular full work for students. All registrations and all term-end reports are based upon this standard. When a student took full work in any one department, as in Painting, he is credited with 15 hrs per week, and, regularly, for a period of 11 weeks.

Irregular Credit courses. The following courses vary from regulation as above stated.

College of agriculture :

RES 8 B — Agr. Edu. and Rural Inst. 2 1/2 hrs.

RES 9 B — Introduction to Rural Soc. 2 1/2 hrs or 5 hrs.

College of business :

Business 7 C Financial Practice, variable for individual.

College of Engineering :

CE 2B — Top. Surveying	2 1/2 or 5 hrs
CE 9C — Irrigation	2 1/2 hrs (Second half term)
CE 10C — Contr. and Specifications	2 1/2 hrs " " "
CE 15B — St. and Top. drawing	2 1/2 hrs
MnE. 5C. — Seminar	2 1/2 hrs
MnE. 8A. — Ore Dressing	2 1/2 hrs

College of Journalism :

J 3B — Agri. Journalism	3 hrs
J 4B — Special article	4 hrs
J 6B — Editorial	1 hr
J 7B — Short Story	3 hrs

College of Law :

L 3A — Contracts	10 hrs
------------------	--------

College of Music :

Mus. 1 — Notation	2 hrs
Mus. 2 — Theory and Harmony	2 hrs
Mus. 3 — Elementary Violin	1 hr
Mus. 9 — Band	1 hr
Mus. 12 — History	2 hrs

College of Science :

Z 4B — Adv. Zoology	4 hrs
Z 8B — An. Histology	3 hrs
Z 9B — Embryology	2 hrs

College of Medical Sciences :

Courses in the College varied greatly according to equipment. Students in courses in Dentistry were recorded with grades but without recommendation for credit hours. Before any credit-hour is granted in any course in the College of Medicine class report must be consulted for the individual.

Division School :

Credit-hours in Division School are upon bases similar to those of the College but for 8 instead of 11 weeks in all but engineering courses. The exceptions are in the vocational courses in the College of Engineering. The recommendations for more credit than 5 hrs per week are as follows :

DV. 1. Automobile Operation and Repair	7 1/2 hrs
DV. 2. Automobile Starting, Lighting and Ignition	7 1/2 »
DV. 3. Gas, Oil Engine	7 1/2 »
DV. 9. Electric Wiring	7 1/2 »
DV. 10. Wire Telegraphy	7 1/2 »
DV. 11. Wireless Telegraphy	7 1/2 »
DV. 12. Telephone Installation	7 1/2 »
DV. 13. Armature Winding	7 1/2 »
DV. 16. Airplane Repair	7 1/2 »
DV. 4 & 5. Merged in one course, Steam Boilers and Engines	5 »

Other changes. Two courses described in the Catalogue as for half term were afterwards given full term. They are :

College of Engineering :

EE 7C — Telephony.

EE 9C — Electric Railways.

Registrations

In spite of this list of variants the standard adopted by the council was so generally observed as to make it unnecessary in the tables that follow to carry a credit-hour column. The number of registrations in a course or a college is a satisfactory presentation of the situation except in the Colleges of Journalism, of Medical Sciences, of Music and of Arts and in the Engineering courses of the Division School. The College of Journalism is the only one of this group that regularly appears in the tables. The very character of the work, or of conditions that determine the work, in the colleges of Arts and of Music usually compel the adoption of different norms and tests for them, and for local reasons that appear in the notes we include Business and the Medical Sciences in this special list. Table I gives briefly the situation and indicates the grouping that must be made in order to determine the norm and present a tabular picture of the University.

TABLE I

Note 1. — These figures are from term-end reports and represent about four fifths of the total registrations, some 4500 men. Students that had withdrawn prior to May 25th were not included. Division School is not included but is appended to Table XI and Table XII.

Note 2. — The number of courses and classes given for Arts corresponds with the number of term-end reports, but does not represent the organization of the work. The same is true of Music.

Note 3. — The College of Medicine, though in special list, appears normal, but it is irregular both in the number of recitations per week and in the recommendations for credit-grades.

The term-end reports of the Dentistry classes do not recommend credit-grades. In tables affecting credit-hours the figures for Dentistry are subtracted from the summaries for the College of Medicine. They are :

	No Courses	Classes	Registrations
Dentistry	13	13	278

Note 4. — In the College of Business the overwhelming numbers compelled a comparatively small faculty to organize themselves into instructor-groups specializing on a few fundamental courses, and to handle unusual numbers in large classes by lectures and quizzes, an instructor-group to a class, each member of the group taking his turn with his special phase of the subject. The average per class is therefore high.

Note 5. — In a few cases in other colleges, classes did not indicate sections in their final reports, and are therefore here included as one section and disturb the average for the department and college. But the cases are few, and the tabulation is fairly just to the actual situation. The normal average for the university is 22, the average shown at mid-term and for the seven colleges above.

Note 6. — Three courses, one in Education and two in Letters, for which credit-hours are not recommended, are omitted from all Tables. They would add the following figures to the above Table:

	Courses	Classes	Registrations
Education.....	1	1	11
Letters.....	2	2	64
Grand Total..	248	439	13334

Total Attendance

TABLE II

The following tabulation of students is taken from the registration cards signed by the students themselves and is in accord with the facts of their registration at the time of their leaving the University or at the end of the term when the University closed. In Table II a student is assigned to a college when the major part of his work is taken in that college or when, in case he has registered in three courses in three different colleges, he has distinctly indicated a preference. There are consequently no duplicates in Table II. They are registrants, not registrations, and each regular student represents on the average three registrations either in the college here assigned or there and elsewhere.

Note 1. — Those familiar with the organization of colleges of the United States will understand that the College of Letters and the College of Science would together compose the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences in the United States, here aggregating 1596. Frequently, also, the students here registered in the College of Education and in the College of Journalism would be counted as students in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences in the United States: in which case the aggregate is 1811.

Note 2.— It will seem strange at first that the College of Business has so large an enrollment. The explanation is simple: The students at the American E. F. University in Beaune were ordered in from among all high school graduates in the American Expeditionary Forces, with the understanding that they would be given instruction in such subjects as they individually desired. The registration in the College of Business, therefore, included such students as in the United States go immediately, for one reason or another, from high-school into business or to some type of business school, or who prepare to go to college but never arrive because they are persuaded they cannot afford the time and the expense. The registration given here may be a fairly clear indication of the proportion of men graduating from the high-schools who desire higher education in some form of business.

Note 3. — Registration in the College of Engineering is below normal. In the United States freshmen in the College of Engineering taking courses in sciences and in mathematics as preliminary to advanced engineering work are counted as engineering students. In Table II, a student taking preliminary work for advanced engineering courses and electing two such courses outside the College of Engineering may here be assigned to the College of Science. There are probably 100 such students that might on some other basis of assignment have been counted as students in the College of Engineering.

Note 4 — It should also be noted that the College of Engineering conducted the vocational courses (trades) for the Division School. These courses were of high-school grade. Many high-school graduates elected them because they offered instruction in practical fields that might readily serve to secure for them immediate employment in the world of affairs on their return to the United States. The eager desire for a better knowledge of how to do real things well, was very manifest on registration day.

The College of Correspondence

TABLE III

The above statement including only students in residence at Beaune, Allerey, and Bellevue takes no account of the registration with the College of Correspondence. The college of Correspondence, located with the University at Beaune and reported in the Catalogue and the Directory, has the following statement to add :

Total number of students enrolled as per alphabetical and numerical file,.....	6705
Number of additional students to whom books, outlines, and examination questions were distributed for use after the College of Correspondence closed.....	4650
Total number of textbooks sent to students.....	10012
Total number of special correspondence school pamphlets sent to students.....	25000
Total number of applications for correspondence courses which could not be supplied for lack of books and material, approximately.....	6000

Tables IV — XI inclusive

A satisfactory and fairly complete mental picture of the university life, in so far as statistics will suggest it, can now be obtained by examining together, or in the order, and grouping here given, Tables IV and V; VI, VII, VIII, IX and X; and XI and XII.

Tables IV and V in conjunction with Tables I and II already given present the largeness of the undertaking and the rapidly changing numbers that were cared for.

Tables VI — X. inclusive give an analysis of the courses as offered by the colleges and elected by the students.

Table XI gives by departments the relations existing between the number of courses, number of classes, number of withdrawals between mid-term and term-end, the number of credit hours for each department.

Table XII is an analysis of the credit-grades recommended by the colleges in the term-end reports.

Notes are added where needed for correct statistical representation. Tables I — XII; studied in connection with the Description of Courses in the Catalogue and with the Supplementary data to the Catalogue printed with this Introduction, should suffice, apart from the term-end reports, to answer questions that may arise with reference to the amount, character and approximate worth of the college work accomplished in the American E. F. University.

The Changing Attendance — Withdrawals

TABLE IV

At Mid-term

The figures below represent the status of the student force of the Colleges of the University at date of the mid-term reports, April 25th 1919.

The figures indicate that on April 25th there were actually 13243 student registrations being carried in 398 classes, 240 courses representing 36 departments organized under 11 colleges. One month earlier similar figure would have given, for the same number of departments in the same colleges about 16000 registrations. Of these 13243, 888 are indicated as wanting in either ability or application.

Average — Omitting Business — 22.

A comparison of Table IV with Table I or Table X reveals at sight the differences between the situation at mid-term and at term-end. The totals are about the same, those having withdrawn being so reported at term-end but included in the totals. The withdrawals have made an erasure of more than 5000 registrations, representing about 1800 men. Withdrawals always mean, « return of students to their organizations ordered home to the States ».

The reports of the Registrar and of the Personnel Adjutant give the following figures at the dates shown. The figures of the Personnel Adjutant are for students as in camp at midnight the night before ; figures of the Registrar are total enrollment to that date, colleges only. The University began recitations on Monday, March 17. From March 20, three days after the opening, the facts are as follows :

TABLE V

	Personnel Adjutant	Registrar
March 20.....	5464	5428
April 1.....	5793	6084
April 13.....	5435	5190
April 25.....	5251	6198
May 30.....	2875	(2897)

Note 1. — The figures of the registrar for April 1, 13, & 25, are larger than the total enrollment as given for the colleges in Table II. Before the Division School was organized the first week in April, about five hundred were enrolled in the colleges that in the final assignment were found transferred by re-registration to the Division School. But until mid-term they are reported as college students, and here included. The figures of the Personnel Adjutant also include them.

Note 2. — The figures included in parentheses for May 30, are the result of an educational census taken for the Registrar on date of May 27. The figures include all students present at the time of last recitations, Colleges and Division School.

Note 3. — A few students withdrew in March as indicated by the difference between the figures for April 1. Between April 1 and April 25, over five hundred withdrew. After that date the withdrawals numbered nearly as many per week.

Grading and Election of Courses

The courses are graded as A, B, and C, and these notations should be understood as follows :

An " A " course is designed for students of Freshmen grade, or for such as yet require the fundamental elements of a subject open to Freshmen.

A "B" course is open to all students who have had the equivalent of one year in college or for such as are otherwise prepared for the subject, and it is designed for students of Sophomore and Junior grade.

A "C" course is strictly advanced, and is open to Seniors and Juniors who are otherwise prepared to undertake the subject.

An earnest desire was expressed by the credentials committees of the colleges and repeated by the university Council that every effort be made to have all registration conform to the classifications adopted and announced. The result is given in tabular form in Tables VI — IX.

TABLE VI

Totals.....	209	59	2877	92	4430	58	4768	12075	.395

The percentage of students taking courses open to Freshmen in American colleges varies widely but the average American college is reported as registering between forty and fifty five percent of all registrations in such courses. We should expect the percentage at Beaune to be higher than the average, due to the unusual demand for Elementary French in France. In the first totals of Table VI, the percentage of « A » registrations is only .395; and this might suggest that Freshmen had been permitted to register in other than « A » subjects. But if we eliminate the College of Business, where the courses are numerous elected by all grades of students but are recorded as « B » and « C » courses, we have the other extreme, but a more normal condition.

TABLE VII

Courses		C		B		A		Total
		Courses	Registra- tions	Courses	Registra- tions	Courses	Registra- tions
8 Colleges . . . .	209	59	2877	92	4430	58	4768	12075

7 Colleges . . . .	202	54	1124	90	2407	58	4768	8299
			or .435		or .29		or .575

Eliminate now the entire enrollment in French 1A, as is perhaps only fair in testing for a « standard », and we reduce the « A » registrations in the above table to 3642 and the total to 7173 and leave the percentage of « A » registrations at .507 for the remaining « A » courses included in the colleges of Agriculture, Education, Engineering, Journalism, Law, Letters and Science.

But the most striking feature of Table VI is the number of « A » registrations in the colleges of Letters and of Science ; they carry together .713 of all « A » registrations, and the percentage of « A » registrations in their own enrollment is, for the College of Letters .713, and for the College of Science .702. Tables VIII and IX give the figures by departments.

It is evident that the Freshman work was particularly heavy in French and Spanish in the College of Letters, and in Chemistry, Mathematics and Physics in the College of Science, Table X, parallels, for each of the five largest colleges, the percentage of total number of students majoring in that college, percentage of total registrations, and percentage of total credit-grades. The Table shows that the College of Letters is exceptional; that whereas the percentage of students majoring is .168, the percentage of total registrations and total credit-grades is .242 and .240. It is the one college in the list showing any significant difference between percentage of students majoring with it and percentage of actual work being done by the college.

Note. — It is difficult to make figures tell the whole truth. The per centage of "A" grades is high for a number of the colleges; the per centages in the Colleges of Agriculture and Science is nearer what we should expect. The percentage in the College of Letters is particularly disappointing. An analysis of the figures by departments in that college shows that in the department of French where the enrollment is very high and where the records were made by instructors wholly unacquainted with our system of grading, the percentage of "A" grades is .54. Eliminate the department of French from the Table and we have for the College of Letters: A — .29; B — .41; C — .18; D — .12; and for the University group of Colleges, A — .31.

THE STAFF DIRECTORY

The Staff Directory, pp. 1-93, is purposely Educational, including the names of all instructors, of educational administrators, and of such officers of the military organization as were more directly concerned in the process of Education. It is in reality therefore a directory of Educators, necessarily brief but containing just enough information to satisfy inquirers as to who were responsible for the Education of the American Expeditionary Force at Beaune, Cote d'Or, France.

The catalogue assigns the instructor for each course described, the report in Washington contains the signature of the instructor for all grades given ; who these instructors are is briefly told in the Directory.

The Staff Directory is a republication of the Directory in the catalogue with the addition of nine names erroneously omitted in Part 1. It here contains 999 names. The statistics are given : first, by institutions, Table XIII ; second Educational Staff at Beaune by Organizations Table XIV ; and third the Educational Staff by Colleges at Beaune, Table XV.

The figures as given for the Colleges include such secretarial assistants as are recorded in the Catalogue. Figures for Administration include President's office, office of Educational Director, office of Registrar.

Two requests we are unable to comply with : statistics of Educational Staff by states, and statistics of colleges in the United States which the instructors represented. An attempt to gather the figures was made and abandoned because the location of the individual was frequently uncertain or without meaning, and the printing of a list of colleges represented seemed like a reproduction of the list for the entire United States. Teachers as well as students came from every where.

TABLE XVI

Table XVI gives the Student Register by States represented. This last Table is almost a League of Nations as well as of States; it is the summary of a remarkable roster of upward-looking youth whose names represent almost every country under the sun, yet they were all United States soldier-boy students in military garb of Uncle Sam at the American E. F. University in France.
